Prince of Wales To Visit Canada

Kamloops, B.C., March 27.—Following the South American trip on which the Prince of Wales is now engaged, the Prince's next outing will be to Canada, according to Professor W. L. Carlyle, head of the E.P. Ranch at High River, Altd., who is here with displays at the Kamloops Bull Sale.

"We are looking for him next year," said Professor Carlyle. "He is planning to come for the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina."

MANY SHARE IN $1,773,720 SWEEP PRIZE

he had sold half his ticket for approximately $10,000.

Smaller fortunes went to several other ticket-holders.

The receipts of the sweepstakes were approximately $8,779,000, of which the Irish hospitals get twenty-five per cent. The promoters are allowed expenses and approximately $5,909,000 was available for distribution in the 449 prizes that ranged from the first prize of one and three-quarter millions to a "consolation" prize of $9,911.

FIVE SHARE SUM

Buffalo, N.Y., March 27.—Five members of the family of Clayton C. Woods, thirty-two, of Buffalo, held a ticket on Gregalach, which ran second in the Great National Steeplechase at Aintree, England, to-day. They stand to win $861,541.

The five persons who will share in the proceeds of the Irish Sweepstakes ticket, which was purchased for $250, are Mr. Woods and his wife; Kenneth Woods, his brother, and his two brothers-in-law, Elmer and Clarence Batt.

The family rejected two offers for the ticket, one for $15,000 and one of $50,000, preferring to take a chance on winning a larger sum. They have declared they plan to travel to Europe on the proceeds of their ticket.

SHARE $50,000

Hamilton, Ont., March 27.—John Bennett and Sam and Willie Thornberry, laundry workers at the Mount St. Vincent Sanatorium, seemed fated to-day to become wealthy men.

Great Spion the horse on which they owned a ticket, jointly placed eighth in the Grand National in England. While no figures have been secured officially, it is estimated here the trio may get a sum in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Bennett and the Thornberry brothers are young Irishmen who came from the Emerald Isle two years ago to seek their fortune in a new country, only by the strangest of chances to have that fortune given them by the country which they left by drawing a horse in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes on the Grand National.

Thus the rainbow they followed from the old land to the new had a pot of gold at the reverse end—a new experience for ambitious emigrants.

New Governor At Sea On Way to Take Ottawa Post

Earl and Countess of Bessborough Now Crossing Atlantic to Halifax, Having Sailed From Liverpool Aboard Liner Duchess of Bedford To-day; Earl of Willington Bids New Governor-General Godspeed.

By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Liverpool, Eng., March 27.—The Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General-Designate of Canada, and the Countess of Bessborough sailed for Canada on board the steamship Duchess of Bedford this afternoon.

At the London Station, when the boat train left for Liverpool, the Earl and Countess boarded a special royal carriage, surrounded by a typical London fog and a host of well-wishers.

Cheerful farewells, presentation of flowers and the flashlights of new photographers hastened for half an hour as Lord and Lady Bessborough took the train.

GANDHI IS GIVEN SUPPORT OF CONGRESS

Karachi, India, March 27.—Mahatma Gandhi, India's "great soul," emerged with greatly enhanced power to-day from weeks of strife and turmoil in which radical Nationalist elements had assailed his leadership.

The working committee of the All-India National Congress, assembled here in its annual convention, to-day appointed him chief delegate to go to London and negotiate for complete Indian self-government, with full independence in financial, military and external affairs, at the forthcoming Second Round-Table Conference.

Simultaneously the active opposition to his leadership, led by Major B. K. Chelmsford, agreed to support the Congress platform outlined by the working committee, thus removing the principal dissent and making certain practical unanimous approval of Gandhi and his program, when it comes up for a final vote.

With this programme to introduce at the full session of the Congress, which will be held March 29, supporters of Gandhi said he would carry everything before him and would have a united India behind him at the Second Round-Table Conference in London.

Cawnpore, United Provinces, India, March 27.—Sporadic communal clashes persisted in Cawnpore and hereabout to-day, with Hindus still enraged at Moslem non-participation in a hartal declared the first of the week, carrying the fight to the Mohammedan centres.

Estimates to-day on the number of dead reached 150. More than 1,000 persons have been injured.

TWO ONTARIO INDIANS JAILED

Bellefonte, Ont., March 27.—Found guilty of assault occasioning bodily harm against Mrs. Peter Doreen, William "Horse" Maracle, Indian of the Mohawk Reserve at Deseronto, was sentenced yesterday evening by Judge McLean of Pictou to two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph. His sister, Sarah Jane Maracle, was found guilty of the same charge and sentenced to sixty days in jail.

Evidence to show witchcraft was practised on the reserve was brought by defence counsel, James Simpson. Susan Maracle, one of the witnesses for the defence, admitted she was a medicine doctor and practised among the Indians. William Maracle, the accused, admitted threatening Mrs. Peter Doreen with an axe and shotgun, hoping she would cease bewitching his children. He also admitted choking her and scratching her hands and face.

SHINGLE MEN MEET IN SEATTLE

Seattle, March 27.—With more than 100 delegates present from Washington, Oregon and British Columbia, the Red Cedar Shingle Congress was in progress here to-day. Standardization of grades is the principal problem before the delegates.

At this forenoon's session Harry H. Steidle, division of trade standards of the U.S. Department of Commerce, discussed the adoption of a proposed commercial standard for shingles in an effort to lessen production costs and meet competition offered by so-called "patented" shingles.

The convention opened yesterday and will close this evening.

ADMITTED TO CANADA

Ottawa, March 27.—John Radunski, referred to as the man without a country, will be admitted to Canada, the Department of Immigration has decided. When he was stopped at the Detroit-Windsor border some weeks ago, his case excited considerable public comment, because, not only did the United States refuse him entry, but so did Canada. The order permitting him to enter this country went forward yesterday.

HAIRDRESSERS' BILL IS SHORN

Tom Uphill's chivalrous appeal for the ladies fell on deaf ears in the Legislature yesterday.

J. A. Cornett, chief Conservative whip, and H. D. Twigg played havoc with the Hairdressers' Bill sponsored by the Labor member.

It had five clauses when it entered committee of the whole. Only one measure clause, and it amended beyond recognition, emerged.

The object of the bill was to give the board administering the affairs of the hairdressers' corporation the same control over students as they have over apprentices.

Mr. Cornett said this would put the barber colleges out of business. Mr. Uphill said the public wanted practical experience, not theory, and declared only ten per cent of the college graduates passed the board's examination.

Mr. Cornett and the Conservative majority prevailed. The clauses of the bill fell off by one until only one minor section remained.

Mr. Uphill plans to bring the more vital provisions before the House on third reading again.

Int. Paper Pays Regular Dividends

New York, March 27.—Boards of directors of the International Paper Company and International Paper Company to-day declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1 1/2 per cent on the seven per cent cumulative preferred stock of the company and the regular quarterly dividends of 1 1/2 per cent on the six per cent cumulative preferred stock of the company payable April 15 to holders of record at the close of business April 4.

Seed Grain For Manitoba Farmers

Winnipeg, March 27.—Seed grain relief will be made immediately available to farmers of Manitoba by the passage of the Seed Grain Act in the Legislature yesterday. The rules were suspended in order to permit the hurried passage of the measure, following receipt of applications for seed grain from more than one-third of the municipalities in the province.

Under the act, the municipality is the sole judge of who shall procure seed grain. If losses are sustained in financing the relief measure, Manitoba and the Dominion Government will share 75 per cent and the municipalities 25 per cent.

BURMESE REBELS KILLED BY POLICE

Rangoon, Burma, March 27.—The whirl of bullets and the pattering of rapid-fire guns were heard once more to-day in the Insein district, along the road to Mandalay, where Burmese rebels fought with police and sepoy.

In one fight police killed eight rebels and wounded seven. Another party of Punjabs captured fourteen rebels after a skirmish at Hen Ada. A mill owner was injured when fifty dacoits raided a rice mill and stole $5,000 rupees.

In the Tharawaddy district villagers resisting a rebel attack killed one and wounded three raiders.

TWO FACE TRIAL

Ketchikan, Alaska, March 27.—A special grand jury indicted Bert McDonald here yesterday in connection with the death last October of George P. Marshall, elderly fish buyer. Lloyd Close, suspect in the McDonald case, was indicted on a grand larceny charge in connection with the theft of tools here. He was brought here recently from Portland, Ore., on a charge of murder in connection with the Marshall case.

TELLS HOW STABILIZATION SAVED BANKS AND AVERTED BOTTOMLESS WHEAT PANIC

Hutchinson, March 27.—Defending resumption of stabilization operations last fall, President Stone of the Farm Board, said it had been found necessary to protect the market and banks from an expected precipitate drop to a price of about 50 cents.

"When wheat prices dropped about November 15 to a level close to 70 cents in Chicago," he said, "we found out definitely that if the market dropped another cent or two per bushel there were at least forty to fifty million bushels of wheat held by various parties upon which moneys had been borrowed from the banks which would have been dumped on an unwilling market at this level to protect these loans.

WOULD HAVE SMASHED BANKS

"If this had been done, it was the opinion of some of the best-informed grain men in the country that American wheat prices would have gone considerably below 80 cents per bushel at Chicago, which would have meant financial disaster not only to the farmers who still had their wheat on hand, but would have meant the closing of hundreds of banks in the Middle West.

"The damage this would have done is almost incalculable. It would have reached and affected practically every character of business. COST HIGH, BUT WORTH IT "It is too early yet to gauge the accounts in dollars and cents in this whole matter," he said. "We believe, however, that a fair examination of the results of this action, when set against the damages that were imminent when the policy was inaugurated, will show the credit side of the operation in actual dollars will be far in excess of the debit side, including any losses the Grain Stabilization Corporation may sustain."

Stone disclosed that the board has loaned $217,969,748 to 101 co-operative associations. Of this $22,461,488 has been repaid.

HANDS UP!

IN ITS DESPERATE HASTE TO EXPLOIT the public pocket for the means of closing the gap between its revenue and unexampled expenditures, the provincial government in its taxation measure has resorted to expedients which will go down in the records as prize-winning specimens of high-pressure official buccaneering. Under this legislation many people will discover that they are being made the objects of triple taxation.

These victims are wage earners who have managed to accumulate savings which they either keep in the banks or have invested in various ways. Next April they will begin paying the one per cent tax on their wages. They also are now filling in their forms preliminary to paying the ordinary provincial income tax. That means double taxation. But in addition to all this, under the new taxation proposal they must pay one per cent of the revenue other than wages they have derived from their investments or savings in the preceding year. This means triple income taxation. It is a penalty on the savings and investments of wage earners.

No wonder the government expects to raise in $5,000,000 from this tax. It is surprising the legislation has not provided for the collection of interest on last year's income tax. Those who have reconciled themselves to the payment of fresh provincial taxation, with the mental reservation to get rid of the government at the first opportunity, will be unable to steel themselves against this high-handed attempt to take not only the contents but also the lining of their pockets. Judging by these depredations upon the public, the deficit for this year—the amount of which never has been divulged—must be staggering indeed.

Aside from this example of tax racketeering there are several anomalies in the taxation legislation worthy of comment. One is the provision for the collection of the wage tax on the basis of a six-day week. What would happen if a five-day week became the order in industry? Some wage earners receive more for five days than others do for six. These no doubt would be described by the minister as mere spots on the great sun of this latest exhibition of glorified tax-grabbing. Besides, what will it matter if there are a large number of escapes when it is possible to soak the income taxpayer three times, once on his combined income from wages and other revenue than wages; once on his income apart from wages, and once on his wages alone. Let him wriggle out of that trap if he can.

This super-tax on the income taxpayer for the preceding year makes the taxation measure before the House retroactive, notwithstanding the disclaimer of the minister. Why the ministry did not stretch it back to the halcyon summer of 1928 when it was elected to office on a platform of reduced taxation, reduced debt, reduced expenditure, only heaven and the government probably know.

PAYING THE PIPER

ONE OF THE CHIEF CONTRIBUTIONS to the deficit of the Dominion government this year is the decline in customs revenue due to a heavy drop in imports. This decrease of imports in turn is due considerably to the large increases in the customs tariff adopted by Parliament at its special session last fall.

To balance its budget the Ottawa government is about to increase taxation under various heads. It is expected that the sales tax will be jumped from one per cent to four per cent, a turnover tax is under consideration and there may be increases in the income tax. If the tariff be further increased this present session there will be a further loss of customs revenue, and a further increase of taxation next year. This vicious circle will continue as long as the government at Ottawa is permitted to indulge its obsession that the way to make Canada prosperous is to erect obstacles to its foreign trade.

Who have been the beneficiaries of this mania for enclosing Canada within high tariff walls? Not the Canadian people, who are about to be soaked with fresh taxation to make up for the loss of revenue due to declining trade. Not the unemployed, who are much larger in number now than they were when the new tariff schedules were authorized last fall.

The only possible beneficiaries must be the producers of the "protected" commodities, and for their benefits the buying public must pay, since it is axiomatic that the consumer pays the amount of customs duties in addition to the purchase price of commodities protected by these means. Thus the public is taxed by protected interests in the form of increased prices for the commodities on which the customs tariff is raised, and it is taxed by the government to make up the deficits caused by raising the customs tariff so high that imports diminish. It is indeed the goat—and a prize winning goat at that, because it explicitly asked for what it has received.

This policy may be a thing of beauty and a joy forever to Prime Minister Bennett, but it is sad business for Canada as a whole—which Mr. Bennett can not see except through the glasses of a few influential interests in the atmosphere and environment of which he has spent the greater part of his life.

When the Liberal government went out of office last year it left a record of reduced taxation, under many heads. The income tax and sales tax had been reduced, the customs tariff had been decreased, the debt had been lowered by some $300,000,000, and there was a surplus in the treasury of $40,000,000. Our empire relations were cordial and promising. Now, taxation is being increased, the debt is going up again, the surplus has disappeared, a deficit of $100,000,000 confronts the government, and unemployment—of which Mr. Bennett, according to his own press, said, "put me in office and I will end it," is more acute than ever. Those electors who voted for Mr. Bennett because they thought it was "time for a change" can now sing in truly soulful cadences that line of an old hymn which runs "change and decay in all around I see."

THROW IT OUT

AFTER MR. MANSON'S ATTACK on that provision in the bill to amend the Dentistry Act which would give power to the Council of the College of Dental Surgeons to remove a practitioner from its register for "unprofessional conduct" the Legislature very properly stood it over for further consideration.

It will be difficult for anybody to discover why there should be any desire on the part of the Council of the Dentists' College to change the act of 1917 in this particular regard, unless it desires to acquire unlimited freedom—more than the Medical Act confers upon the doctors' organization—to deal with those of its number whom it might consider guilty of unprofessional conduct, either because they charged their patients low fees or advertised their services. The law as it stands amply provides for disciplinary measures in cases of fraudulent registration, conviction of an indictable offence, while a charge of infamous or unprofessional conduct must be laid before a Judge of the Supreme Court. In other words "unprofessional conduct" must be proven in a court of law, not decided, as is now desired, by the Council of the College of Dental Surgeons.

The Legislature either should throw out this bill altogether or remove all its objectionable features. Too much legislation of this kind is being asked for by organizations that are seeking authority to penalize their members as they see fit. It is time a halt was called.

THEY ALL PASSED AWAY

THIS IS HOW THE CHICAGO Daily News tells its readers about the depressions of the past:

There was a business depression in 1857 lasting twelve months.
There was a business depression in 1869 lasting eight months.
There was a business depression in 1873 lasting thirty months.
There was a business depression in 1884 lasting twenty-two months.
There was a business depression in 1887 lasting ten months.
There was a business depression in 1893 lasting twenty-five months.
There was a business depression in 1903 lasting twenty-five months.
There was a business depression in 1907 lasting nearly twelve months.
There was a business depression in 1914 lasting eight months.
There was a business depression in 1921-22 lasting fourteen months.

And The News winds up with the assurance that just as all these came to an end, so will the present one. There is no doubt about it.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

HE BEGAN WITH THREE CENTS
The Border Cities Star

Cyrus H. K. Curtis, who began his career in 1862 at the age of twelve with an investment of three cents, who has made many millions in magazines and spent many millions for newspapers, last year unostentatiously gave away more than $5,000,000 to educational enterprises. That amount is the total of published gifts from the world-famous publisher. Undoubtedly without publicity, he has made other donations. During 1930 he gave $2,050,000 for the Benjamin Franklin Memorial; $2,100,000 for a site for a temple of opera and symphonic music in Philadelphia; $100,000 to the Settlement Music School, Philadelphia; $500,000 to Bowdoin College; $500,000 to Temple University; $300,000 to Drexel Institute, and $100,000 to Ursinus College.

Mr. Curtis will be eighty-one on June 18 and is still actively interested in his various publications. When he bought the name "Saturday Evening Post" for $5,000, he immediately spent, through N. W. Ayer, $100,000 to promote it, and, in this year of alleged depression, he is spending millions in a newspaper advertising campaign for the same weekly.

Last year, in addition to his gifts, Mr. Curtis spent approximately $14,000,000 for control of the Philadelphia Inquirer and its publishing plant. Back in 1913 he had paid $2,000,000 for the Philadelphia Public Ledger, his first newspaper. Subsequently he paid $4,000,000 for the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, the Press and the North American, to merge with the Ledger. He is also owner of The New York Evening Post, purchased from Thomas Lamont. His one publishing failure was The Philadelphia Sun, a tabloid.

A THOUGHT

Unto the pure all things are pure.—Titus 1:15.
While our hearts are pure, our lives are happy and our peace is sure.—William Winter.

Across The Bay

An unpleasant time is had by all—as we wade through bills innumerable—and battle behind the scenes—and finally witness political stage management of the most expert kind.

By H. B. W.

THESE ARE terrible, indescribable days with us across James Bay. We are moving so fast, we are doing so much, and changing our minds so often that an outsider wouldn't know what it was all about. At that, he probably would know almost as much as we do ourselves. Lobbyists besiege us on all sides. Constituents phone us from all over the province. Telegrams pour in asking us to vote one way, or another, or no way at all. People who want things done try to herd us into the House on critical divisions, or to keep us out, as the case may be. Tempers, worn thin by continual late nights, are on hair triggers and break out at the least expected times. And, in a word, we are winding up the season in the most approved style.

THURSDAY WAS such a day of maneuvering behind the scenes, of counting noses and lining up divisions, of lobbying and log-rolling as would make an unsophisticated person's head swim. Happily there are none of these people about and we stood up fairly well under the strain. But even our well-tried composure and veteran cynicism was overwhelmed by the series of events which finally crowned this dismal day.

THE FIRST job was to dispose of the chiropractors' bill which has bothered us for countless sessions. The Premier announced a Royal Commission for chiropractors and another one for drugless healers, and he could not resist the opportunity, in discussing the pros and cons of this matter, of making a few amiable references to the diseases of animals, which was probably designed to get us into a good humor.

IT FAILED, however, to get the opposition into a good humor. Mr. Manson was disposed to continue the debate a little further, but by Mr. Speaker that it was over. Thereupon Mr. Manson gave the government the blunt warning that if it saved any time now it would lose a great deal more later. Everyone knew what that meant; even Mr. Speaker, who is not supposed to know about such things. Mr. Speaker said that if Mr. Manson were making a threat that did not interest Mr. Speaker, whose business was to carry on business. It does not interest Mr. Speaker, but it may well interest the rest of us if the threat is carried out.

AFTER THIS opening unpleasantness, Mr. Uphill started to fight through his hairdressers' bill, with a couple of fair hairdressers at his elbow to prompt him on the technical aspects of hairdressing; and an obscure punster said it was indeed an uphill fight. One cannot impute a personal motive in this assembly, of course. Yet, it was observed that the bald-headed members concentrated such a fire on the hairdressers' bill, as if in revenge against the fact that little was left of the measure, but Mr. Uphill and the two hairdressers, when they were finished.

WE WENT on then to the Dentistry Act about which has surged a lobby and a counter-lobby such as the House has not seen for a long time. It is too complicated to be gone into here, but the main fact was that the House swallowed itself completely and undid what it had done the previous evening, in the most approved legislative style. And those who had been responsible in engineering this remarkable feat felt very good indeed, and made no attempt to disguise their satisfaction with their handiwork.

AFTER THAT came Mr. Jones's new Income Tax Act and Mr. Pattullo's comments on it. Mr. Pattullo admitted that when he looked at the new income tax, words failed him. This was hardly accurate, for Mr. Pattullo found such words with which to condemn the act as must have satisfied even Mr. Pattullo. He talked, for instance, of the "rapacious tentacles" of the government reaching out, ever further and further, for money among the poor people. He said he could distinctly hear the "crunching and grinding" of the government as it crushed and ground the working men and women. But he did not speak long, for it is thought better to let the new taxes speak for themselves. They do it rather well. Anyway, the new tax was passed on a formal division by 22 to 10.

THE MOST extraordinary incident of the session was reserved for the evening session. As it is against the rules of the House to impute motives one can only relate the facts. No sooner had the Speaker taken his chair than it was suddenly moved that report number two of his agricultural committee be adopted. There were only twenty-seven members in the House, and most of them didn't seem to know what was under way. Before anyone realized what had happened report number 2 of the agricultural committee had been adopted and that meant that the House had turned down Jack Loutet's bill repealing the Vancouver Milk Act. The vote, of course, caught Mr. Loutet and his friends quite unaware since, having a definite promise from authoritative sources that the matter would not be discussed that evening, they had not even reached the House. When they arrived and found that they had been voted out of court in their absence and in this bald fashion, there was such a racket behind the scenes as these old buildings have not seen in recent memory.

THIS, OF course, was not the end of it, for such things don't end in a minute and usually follow the course of a boomerang. In due course Mr. Speaker and the Premier together saw that justice was done. Mr. Speaker said he felt partially responsible for the course of events as he had promised Mr. Loutet his bill would not be under discussion that evening, and the Premier, reversing his former decision. That reinstated the Loutet bill and enabled Mr. Loutet to speak. Considering his provocation, he was restrained. He only remarked that he supposed the gentlemen who had done this thing were out in the corridors shaking hands over their victory. And he added pungently that he was in the habit of taking promises seriously.

THEREUPON WE launched into a debate on the merits of the Milk Bill which did not end until a quarter after twelve midnight. Mr. Loutet made a spirited attack on the act, Mr. Berry an extremely able defence of it. Mr. Dick (hoping that he was still a business man and had not yet become a politician) demanded justice for the people of Vancouver, Mr. Manson (pleading for that "dignity, serenity and sound judgment" which should characterize British parliamentaries) could not see that the people of Vancouver were suffering. Almost half the House followed, and the longer the debate became the more bitter it became until Mr. Heggie charged gully with the reports of the agricultural committee. This,

Chairman Lister, of the committee, denied, and also that any monkey business had been intended at the House opening. The feeling between Conservative members by this time was not what you ordinarily expect in party politics.

IT WAS clear now that the Milk Act was going to survive all attempts on its life in this Legislature, whatever its fate might be in the courts. But when the division bells rang at a quarter past twelve midnight and the most vital vote of the session was finally taken, no one was prepared for the overwhelming defeat of the Loutet-Dick forces. There were only thirteen opponents to the Milk Act to thirty-three for it. "Well, we put the boys on the spot and that's that," said Mr. Dick, consoling himself with great cheerfulness. As for the rest of us, after such a day, we were glad enough to go home and try to sleep it off.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
MARCH 27, 1906
(From The Times Files)

A. Robinson, superintendent of education, expects within a short time to receive a most interesting collection of exhibits showing the work done by school children in various parts of the empire. These are being sent out by the League of the Empire.

There is a little corner of Holland out at Oak Bay, while it is a rather obscure place, inasmuch as it is well sheltered by foliage, and consequently very little in the public eye, is doing more to advertise the virtues of this climate than much that is being done in other directions. This corner consists of an acre and a half of land under high cultivation, and in the hands of florists, the enterprising firm being Messrs. Woolaston and Wallace who said to-day that they had been experimenting in the growing of flowers, and the results attained for instance at the place mentioned are most interesting from a Victoria standpoint.

His Royal Highness Prince Arthur of Connaught arrived in Victoria this morning by the R.M.S. Empress of Japan. It had been previously announced that the big steamer would tie up at 11 o'clock and at that time there was a large gathering of citizens.

Weather forecast: Victoria and vicinity: Southerly winds, partly cloudy and mild, with occasional showers.

Several matters of some importance came up for consideration at last evening's meeting of the City Council. The consideration of the advisability of cancelling the agreement with the B.C. Electric Railway Company on the water question.

On the return from the Sooke fishing grounds on Friday night Prince Arthur and party will proceed direct to the C.P.R. wharf and board the C.P.R. steamer Princess Victoria for Vancouver. The steamer is being put in the best of trim for the accommodation of the distinguished party. In Vancouver the Prince will be received by a guard of honor of a hundred men of the Sixth Regiment.

BOARD FOR WHEAT IS NEW SUGGESTION

Canadian Press

Edmonton, Alta., March 27.—That renewal of the war-time Canada Wheat Board or some such federal control organization will be the only solution possible if wheat prices fail to rise from their present level, is the opinion of Premier J. E. Brownlie.

Speaking on the Wheat Pool Guarantee Validation Bill in the Alberta Legislature yesterday, the Premier said he was hopeful through an increase in prices the Alberta pool might be able to "carry on," and expressed the view that body was in a better position than were the pools in either of the other two prairie provinces, to effect its salvation. Within five years, present difficulties might be entirely swept away.

But in the alternative, if the present risky market should continue, he saw no other possible remedy but for the Dominion to step in, assume the responsibility and possibly create some sort of a national wheat board that would stabilize prices.

Between now and next June, he anticipated, the government would have to decide whether or not to let the Alberta Wheat Pool should be reorganized.

RUSSIA

To the Editor:—In contradicting Mr. Kroeger's statement as to his disbelieve in the existence of forced labor in Russia, it was not my intention to enter into a political controversy. For any further information on the subject, apart from The New York Times, I would refer him to the official Blue Book issued recently by the Labor Government on general labor conditions, which proves conclusively the existence of coerced labor in Russia.

I also take the opportunity of advising Mr. Rod Stewart that the very interesting publication of the "Armory," to be found in the Victoria Public Library, is an official organ of the Soviet government and the last place in the world where a true picture of the situation will be found.

FAIR WAGE BILL

To the Editor:—Concerning the dispute at Willows buildings and a statement by some councillors that a clause in the building agreement calls for the payment of "union" wages instead of "fair" wages, some joker or interested person has had access to the document or the city solicitor who might be napping. No country outside of Australia (and we now see the deplorable results) has gone so far as to place the words "union wages" in any agreement. The Fair Wage Bill, passed at Ottawa a year ago said "fair wages" must be paid on all government contracts. If a bunch of sensible mechanics get together and decide amongst themselves, as they seem to have done, that $7 is now a "fair" wage, it simply is a fair wage, and Alderman Dewar is exceeding his duty in trying to prove otherwise. The clause in the contract should certainly be looked up, and the blame, if any, placed for the substitution of "union" for "fair." If this point had been elucidated before giving out the contract, some money might have been saved for the taxpayers.

If the words "union wages" should be substituted for "fair wages" in any contract hereafter, there is no reason why a strike in the various trades during construction should not enhance the estimated cost of the building to a totally "unfair" cost.

Contractors signing such an agreement would be liable to have their "fair" profit wiped out completely, by reason of being compelled to pay wages to pay wages which have become totally "unfair" since contract was signed.

WALTER POSTER.

TAXATION

To the Editor:—In your issue of March 24 Mr. John Dean quotes as being opportune a suggestion from the 1928 report of the Inspector of Municipalities that the statute be so amended as to provide for a minimum taxation on the value of improvements of 25 per cent and a maximum of 75 per cent. It doesn't appear that the municipalities are in a very great hurry to adopt the suggestion, as thirty-three of them are not taking up the statutory limitation now, much less asking to change it. Best of those that tax land values highest and improvements lightest can brag of better conditions for the home-owner, as I showed in a recent letter was the case in New Westminster.

Mr. Dean would appear to consider the holding up of a lot for thirty-eight years as a virtue. One need only ask what would become of a town should everybody else play the same dog-in-the-manger game. Lots are for use and not for speculation and the authorities should only part with them on that condition. Consider the miles of street building, piping and wiring that have to be carried out and maintained in front of the 3,500 reverted lots that Mr. Dean speaks of. In Canada, Australia, and Palestine, Alaska, there are no vacant lots mixed in with built-up ones; the land is leased as needed and the speculator eliminated. Those cities are being developed compactly and street building or civic services need be carried out beyond actual development. The same plan is to be adopted at Churchill, Manitoba.

I believe, and now the farmers of Alberta have declared against the alienation of any more land in that province. They say it should be leased and the rent paid into the public treasury. Thoughtful people everywhere are beginning to understand what a great evil land speculation is and how simple is the remedy.

The chief cause of unemployment is no mystery to those who have eyes to see and are willing to look. Give labor access to natural resources and no man need hunt a master. He can employ his own energy and industry in his own way without the necessity of buying out some forecaster of nature's gifts.

"How do you get him to chew his food?"

"I give him Shredded Wheat and it's so crisp he has to chew it—the more he chews it the better he likes it and the more nutriment he gets out of it. Many children bolt down their food without chewing—that means imperfect digestion, poor teeth and unhealthy gums. Shredded Wheat with milk makes a perfect food for growing children, and it's perfectly delicious with bananas or stewed fruit."

AWARDS MADE TO PUPILS AT NIGHT SCHOOL

Annual Exhibition of Work Done By Evening Classes Held

Calibre of Work Very High, Officials Say; Attendance Is High

Work of the evening technical classes conducted under the auspices of the Victoria School Board was on display at the Victoria High and Boys' Central Schools yesterday evening as the night school terms was brought to a close. Hundreds of citizens attended the exhibition at both institutions and manifested deep interest in the work.

The feature of the evening was the presentation of prizes in the machine shop and mechanical drawing sections by E. W. Izard, chairman of the metal trades section of the local branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. In the machine shop section, textbooks on advanced machine work were presented to Alex Bruce in the advanced class and Thomas Packford in the elementary division.

FINE METAL WORK

The work of Bruce drew special comment, being of exceptionally high calibre, and including a plunger type back saw, calipers and other articles. Packford, in his first year at the work produced a well-finished pulley bottom. J. J. Rippon is the instructor in this department and drew particular attention to a silver-plated teapot and sugar bowl made by G. Rodd.

Three awards were made in the mechanical drawing section, which is in charge of Alex. D. Robertson. Walter Scott and Charles Stewart received prizes in the advanced section and Ernest Bowden was the winner of the elementary award. Books on engineering were presented to these boys.

CEDAR CHESTS AND TABLES

In the woodwork section, which is under L. A. Campbell and R. F. Goldfinch, pupils were at work finishing their models for the year. Music cabinets, tables, cedar chests, lamp stands, book cases and a variety of other articles have been produced in this department and the standard of the work drew very favorable comment from John Kyle, superintendent of technical education in B.C. Particular interest was shown by visitors in the elementary art section, where Miss Adeline Baxter is the instructor. A special award made by School Trustee J. S. McMillan for this work was won by May Dixon with a varied display in crayon and colors.

AT HIGH SCHOOL

At the High School the exhibition was of work done by the commercial classes, including typewriting, book-keeping, drawing, pottery, fine arts and dressmaking. There were some unusually good displays in these departments.

Night school officials expressed themselves as extremely pleased with the work turned out by the students and the display generally. The wood-working division, it was claimed, compares favorably with any such institution in Canada and in other departments the standard is particularly high. The work of Alex. Bruce in the machine shop was said to be the finest ever turned out in the night school.

The night school has had a maximum attendance of 694 during the six month's session, which ended yesterday evening, with an average of about 520.

EDUCATION POLICY IS UNDER FIRE

Alberni Liberal Member Says Old Country Methods Unsuitable Here

Declares Hinchliffe Is Really Council of Public Instruction and Has All the Say

Grave doubts whether municipalities would receive the increased grants towards teachers' salaries that they had been led to expect when the $500,000 appropriation from the new income tax levy was announced were voiced by L. A. Hanna, Liberal, Alberni, during the second reading of the bill to amend the Public Schools Act in the Legislature yesterday.

"It has been indicated to some that they will get grants amounting to 75 per cent of the teachers' salaries. I think under the provisions of this bill some will find they are not receiving more but less in comparison with the salaries to be paid," Mr. Hanna said.

The $500,000 grant was only $300,000, in fact, he claimed, as the $200,000 rebate on taxes allowed to those owning wild land and agricultural land in school districts was repealed under the bill.

After attacking many sections of the bill the Alberni member made an eloquent plea for an educational policy in British Columbia based on good Canadian lines.

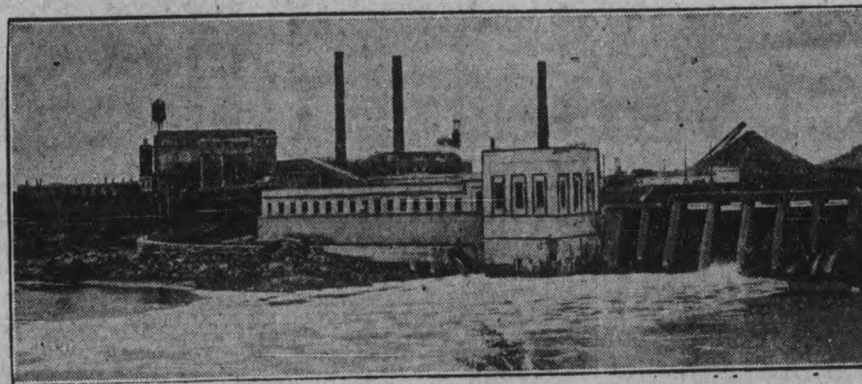

"Conditions are different in British Columbia to the Old Country," he said. "We want a good Canadian policy in British Columbia schools, not Old Country stuff. I have every respect for the Old Country, but an Old Country school policy is not what British Columbia needs."

SUGGESTS COMMITTEE

Pointing out the Council of Public Instruction was actually the Minister of Education, as at the time the members of the government were members of the council, they were too busy with their own duties to actually serve on the council, Mr. Hanna advocated the duties to be taken over by a committee of four or five, with interests of the province, of the students of the province and a sound Canadian educational policy at heart.

"The Council of Public Instruction as it is at present constituted is ridiculous," said the speaker. "The ministers have not time to devote to it, the result is the whole thing is in the hands of the Minister of Education."

"It is a case of if it is all right with you, Joshua, let her go," said Mr.

Industry that has grown in Ontario frontier town—Interesting view of huge pulp and paper mills at Kapuskasing

Hanna.

The speaker disapproved a section of the bill giving the minister the right to consolidate rural schools. The committee should be given the right to vote upon it, he thought.

Noting the minister was taking power to go into the wholesale and retail business of selling text books, he charged the minister had created some of the text book trouble by curriculum changes without notice. The policy of standardizing salaries was not definite enough, the speaker thought. The section setting a residence and fixing fees accordingly for a pupil to attend a high school or grade in another district was criticized as not suitable for a Canadian province where persons did not remain in one place as they did in the Old Country.

TELL TALES OF RIEL REBELLION

Victoria Veterans of Big Uprising Recall Incidents Before Campaigners

Graphic stories of the Riel Rebellion, the eventual capture of Louis Riel and Poundmaker, Indian chief, two of the central figures of the campaign, and the hanging of Riel at the police barracks, Regina, were told by veterans of the rebellion at the regular monthly meeting of the British Campaigners' branch, Canadian Legion, in the club-rooms of the Fro Patria branch, yesterday evening.

As guests at the gathering the veterans of the campaign of 1885 delighted the members with their reminiscences, living over again the stirring times of the great uprising in the west.

Victorians who served in the campaign and who were present at last night's function, included: Beaumont

YOU CAN'T OUT-TRADE A TRADER

Motorists are learning to be frankly skeptical of too high an allowance on Used Cars

SOME DAY SOON you will need a new automobile and one of the first questions you will ask your dealer will be—"How much will you allow me on the old car?"

It is natural that you should want to get as much as possible, yet you know the old car isn't as good as it once was. It has gone ten, twenty, perhaps thirty thousand miles. Years of operation have depreciated its value. The best part of its useful life is behind it.

HAVE YOU EVER stopped to consider why one dealer will offer you $250 for it—another $300 or even $350? It's the very same car, yet here is a difference of $50 to $100 in the estimates of experienced automobile men.

Has one dealer made a mistake? Can you flatter yourself on having fooled him as to the condition of the car and made a good trade? No—there is little chance of that. It's the dealer's business to know car values.

When a dealer buys a used car from you, he does not buy it to keep. He takes it off your hands as an accommodation to you. He would be delighted if he never had to take a used car in trade.

IF HE PAYS you more than your used car is worth, then one of two things must happen. He must re-sell it to some one else at too high a price (which is not fair or just) or he must make up the difference on the new car. The dealer cannot afford to take a loss. The money must come from somewhere. Whether you know it or not, you pay the bill.

Before you enter the showroom, the big trade dealer knows you are going to be looking for a large allowance and that you will not buy his particular car unless you get it. So he is all set to give it to you. There is nothing casual or accidental about it. The dealer follows a plan that has been carefully worked out for him in advance. He will gladly give you $50, $75 or even $100 more in trade allowance because he makes just that much more on the new car. The dealer's profit in selling has been purposely increased to make that large allowance possible. You gain nothing. The dealer loses nothing. You receive the extra allowance in one hand. You pay it right back with the other.

THE FORD DEALER does not need such methods to sell the Ford car. He is an authorized representative of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, and he does business on a fair, straightforward basis. He does not seek to take advantage of the public's known weakness for a "bargain."

The Ford charges for selling, financing and accessories are not increased to provide for a large used-car allowance. Value is built into the car. There is no water in the price.

The lower first cost of the Ford, the lower cost of operation, up-keep and service, and the added value of the shatterless glass windshield, four Houdaille DOUBLE-ACTING hydraulic shock absorbers, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, and Rustless Steel amount to far more than any seeming difference in trade allowance.

B.C. WOMEN IN SMART GOWNS AT RECEPTION

Resplendent Materials and Trains Featured at Ottawa Parliamentary Function

Ottawa, March 27.—Never have the gowns been more gorgeous than those which swept the marble floor of the "Hall of Fame" of the House of Commons at the ministers' wives' reception and dance, Wednesday evening. There was a predominance of trains, since many of the gowns were bought especially for the drawing-room. With the cancellation of the latter function, they made their initial bow Wednesday. There were a number of white satin gowns, worn with long-colored kid gloves and slippers to match, while soft lace, which lends itself so well to sleek, moulded lines, was also a popular material.

Miss Bennett chose the lovely gown of gold lame which she wore for the opening of parliament. The gown, by the way, was the one she wore for the opening of the British House of Commons. Close fitting to just below the hips, the skirt falls with much fullness from a peplum and extends to a train. She wore pendant earrings of diamonds. Mrs. Senator Wilson's gown of ice-blue satin swept the floor. A rope of pearls and a wide bracelet of diamonds added to the scintillating effect.

Mrs. George Black wore a striking gown of black and white sequins. The bodice was fashioned of white sequins to just below the hips, from which black sequins and tulle extended to form a short train. Mrs. C. B. McAllister, who is one of most fashionably gowned women in Ottawa, wore a lovely gown of cyclamen and black chiffon which swept to great length. It was elaborated with diamonds and she wore a necklace of diamonds. En suite was a velvet cloak of cyclamen shade, collared with white fox fur.

B.C. WOMEN
Mrs. J. H. King chose a graceful gown of black chiffon, and Mrs. Grote Stirling of Kelowna wore one of soft green moire, which introduced a slight train. Black chiffon broadened in gold was worn by Mrs. Charles Dickie, wife of the member from Nanaimo.

A quaint little frock of old rose faille having ruffles from the waist to the tips of her toes, was worn by Miss Sylvia Stevens, while Mrs. Patricia, wore a flame chiffon which had a petalled skirt. The Misses Stevens entertained at dinner for a group of debutantes and their escorts before the dance.

Mrs. A. W. Neill of Alberni, B.C., wore black lace, and a lovely gold lame gown, which introduced a bolero bodice, was worn by Mrs. Maurice Dupre, wife of the Solicitor-General.

A lame gown of silver and coral blue was worn by Mrs. Hugh Guthrie, wife of the Attorney-General. Turquoise blue satin was worn by Mrs. Gideon Robertson, wife of the Minister of Labor, and Mrs. E. N. Rhoads was distinguished in a gown of rose-beige lace.

A delightful "cup" and saucer shower was held at the home of Miss Betty Hamilton, Linden Avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Katharine Wallace, Dorcas, B.C. The gifts were presented in a rainbow-colored "horn of plenty." The tea table was centred with a silver basket of daffodils and mimosa. Those present were: Miss Kathleen Wallace, Mrs. H. Bradley, Mrs. W. Bremner, Misses M. Fairfull, Clara Graham, Ethel Olive, Any Ray, Dorothy Hearn, Norman Richards, Ina Deakin, Dorothy Thomas, Elsie Aymes, Millicent Higgins, Sadie Underwood and Ruby Wallace.

A delightful surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scott, 1128 Colliette Street, on Wednesday evening in honor of their daughter, Mary, who is leaving for a week's vacation in Victoria from the University of Washington. A jolly evening was spent in music and dancing. Those present were: Misses Mary Scott, Elsie Donald, Maurine Mainprize, Alice Webster, Jean Williams, Hazel McMahon, "Tillie" Garey, Dorothy Siddall, "Mears," E. E. Denis and Roger Humphries, G. Patterson, J. Strang, D. Fish, H. Noble, G. Fields, A. MacMahon, W. Stevens, R. Wright and A. Taylor.

Mrs. G. F. W. Jennings entertained again at a bridge party at her home, Newport Avenue, yesterday afternoon. The reception rooms were bright with daffodils, tulips and wallflowers, daffodils and mauve tulips being used in decoration of the tea table at which Mrs. J. Milligan and Mrs. B. W. Paul presided. The players included Mrs. J. J. Shalloo, Mrs. T. S. Gore, Mrs. C. S. Wilkie, Mrs. G. A. Stuart, Mrs. C. R. Schaff, Mrs. A. Woodcroft, Mrs. A. Buckle, Mrs. T. H. Burns, Mrs. H. P. Johnson, Mrs. H. P. Tuberculosis W.A.—The regular monthly meeting of the women's auxiliary to the Tuberculosis Veterans was held at the home of Mrs. Charles, 107 Wellington Avenue, with a fair attendance of members. After the regular monthly business of the meeting was dealt with, the forthcoming tea to be held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Campbell, 1716 Fort Street, on April 22, was fully gone into. It was decided to have the usual home cooking stall, and Mrs. Edna Ashworth and Kelly will convene it. Mrs. Cookman will convene the business of the meeting, and Mrs. Campbell will look after the programme. This will be the last public effort of the club until the fall, and it is hoped all interested in the Tuberculosis Veterans' Club will respond in their usual kind manner in giving it their support and financial assistance.

asked by one of the Fathers what was the capital of British Columbia. One of the Canadian boys whispered to him, "Campbell's Corner." Charles repeated this out loud. The teacher was going to punish him, but on second thought said, "No, Charlie, I won't punish you, perhaps you are right."

UNNECESSARY HABITS OFTEN FOSTERED BY PARENT

A mother has few hours in the day to call her own. Yet some mothers deprive themselves of these precious ones, which might be devoted to their own interests, because they cannot say, "No," to the child's unreasonable demands. Of all the expenditures of valuable time, that of lying down with a child while he goes to sleep is the most useless. This unnecessary attention results as badly for the child as for the weak-spined slave who acquiesces.

INCONSISTENT TREATMENT
From his earliest infancy we are inconstant in convincing the child that sleep is a desirable, enjoyable state into whose embrace he goes willingly. We are intent on showing him that there is no more cause for him to fear the enfolding darkness than the comforting light. Yet we negate all these assertions by agreeing to sit near or lie down with the child while he goes to sleep, thus admitting that there is cause for fear and that going to sleep is a lonely, perhaps terrifying experience. How inconsistent!

A mother wrote to me recently: "My four-year-old boy will not go to sleep unless I lie down with him. How can I break him of this?"

There is just one way. Stop doing it. If he is sleepy the boy cannot possibly keep himself from going to sleep, and his threats are therefore laughable. Undoubtedly this mother has tried to bribe the child to go to bed alone. "Be a good boy and see what mother will give you in the morning!" This cannot be effective so long as the child prefers an immediate reward which he can enjoy at the moment to one for which he will have to wait until to-morrow. The very fact that his mother offers him a reward for doing what he should be expected to do because it is a pleasure to himself, indicates her weakness.

CURTAIN ATTENTION
He must understand that this is his bedtime, not his mother's. The mother should take him to bed, give him the necessary attention, and then go downstairs without further comment.

Too much talk, too much effort to reason with the child are also ineffective because they weaken the mother's case. It should be plain that going to bed without company is the natural thing to do. There is nothing to be afraid of because the family is within hearing. If he wants a night light, he may have it. He may even have the door open into the lighted hall if he will not abuse the privilege by talking and calling to the family.

To end this habit, stop catering to it. If the child has a temper tantrum and runs out of the room to his mother, he should be sent back as often as necessary to convince him that his tears and wails and outbursts of temper are not annoying his mother or altering her conduct; they are simply preventing him from getting to sleep. Be certain that he does not sleep more than one hour in daytime and will, therefore, be sleepy when he goes to bed.

MISS M'PHAIL CAUSTIC ON NEW COMMISSIONER

Sorry For Britain But Glad For Ontario That Hon. G. H. Ferguson There

Ottawa, March 27.—Miss Agnes McPhail, Progressive member of Parliament for Southeast Gray and Canada's sole woman member, is glad, for the sake of Ontario that Hon. G. H. Ferguson, High Commissioner to Great Britain, has gone to England, but she is sorry for Great Britain on that score. Speaking in the House of Commons to-day, Miss MacPhail had some caustic remarks for Mr. Ferguson.

"May I pause here," she said in the course of her speech, "to thank from the bottom of my heart the Prime Minister for appointing Hon. Howard Ferguson as minister plenipotentiary to the Court of St. James. It is hard on the Court of St. James, but it is a great relief to the province of Ontario."

"When I read in the papers day after day Mr. Ferguson's speeches and see his pictures and accounts of his career, and how proud Canada is that he has gone to London—and so on, and so on, I say to myself:

"Have sincerity and honesty wholly departed from our province?" I at least am thankful he has gone, but I am sorry to see that a man of this particular political type—not stripe—should be appointed minister plenipotentiary, representing Canada in Great Britain.

"I mean that, too," added Miss MacPhail.

War Veterans' Orphans Helped In Education

The various chapters under the Municipal I.O.O.F. contributed the sum of $850 during the past year to the educational work carried in under the war memorial scheme. The order, according to the report, presented by Mr. C. Hayward, educational secretary, at yesterday's annual session.

CHAPTERS GENEROUS
Of this amount the individual donations of chapters were: Camosun, $100; Gonzales, $80; Sir James and Lady Douglas, $175; Florence Nightingale, $100; Esquimalt, $185; Navy League, $50; Margaret Rooke Robertson, $30; Valentine Harvey-Baumont Boggs, $110; Dr. O. M. Jones, $20; Robert Burns McKicking, $30; I.M.S. Resolution, $20; Commodore Broughton, $50; Sir Matthew Ballie Begbie, $30; Major J. H. Gillespie, $100. In addition the Margaret Rooke Robertson Chapter has $252.53 towards a bursary foundation fund. Of the above sum, $375.50 was spent in bursaries for Victoria students, and one boy from Fort St. John. Libraries to the value of $173.30 were also placed in schools adopted by the chapters, and pictures and magazines also sent to the schools, while I.O.O.F. calendars to the value of $150 were distributed.

TRIBUTE TO PREDECESSOR

Mrs. Hayward paid a warm tribute to her predecessor, Miss A. B. Cooke, "I wish to express my appreciation to Miss Cooke for much kind assistance during the year. Great wisdom was shown by the executive in their selection of the one in whose hands they placed the organization and administration of the office and funds of education in 1919. I, who have been privileged to see the well-ordering files, reports and financial statements, can conceive of the painstaking hours spent during the years, and the cherished letters are mute witnesses to the unconquerable love of youth, the loyal interest and deep sympathy with the boys and girls whose fathers paid the sacrifice in the war. No matter how many secretaries come after her, they can never excel Miss Cooke."

Home Cooking Stall.—Under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the First United Church, a home cooking stall will be held on Saturday in Spencer's basement.

For St. Louis College—A home cooking stall will be held in the basement of Spencer's to-morrow in aid of the funds for rebuilding St. Louis College.

MISSING WIFE DIES IN STORM

Aged Prairie Woman Frozen to Death Near Her Home

Climax, Sask., March 27.—Missing since midnight Tuesday—Wednesday, the body of Mrs. J. H. Green, seventy-nine, was found yesterday afternoon within half a mile of her home. The body, clad in a thin cotton dress and wearing bedroom slippers, was badly frozen, being partially covered by snow when found. It is believed Mrs. Green stepped into the yard to drive off range horses that had broken into a stack of feed and that she became lost while returning to the house when a sudden storm sprang up.

Mr. Green, who was in Orkney Tuesday evening attending a meeting, missed his wife when he returned home. He searched all night and in the morning gave the alarm, when R.C.M.P. officers organized search parties.

Social Work Of League Told To W.C.T.U. Ladies

Some of the social aspects of the work of the League of Nations were touched upon by Dr. A. O. MacRae in an interesting address given before the members of the W.C.T.U. at the Centennial Church yesterday afternoon, Mrs. M. Northman presiding.

Reference to investigations made into child welfare, world health, traffic in women, the opium and narcotic traffic and rural hygiene was made by the speaker, who told of the epidemiological research clinic established at Singapore for the whole of the eastern hemisphere. China had approached the league for a health commission, and other countries had also sought the aid and advice of the many experts attached to the league's staff.

Speaking of the opium and narcotic traffic, Dr. MacRae said the League of Nations was doing valuable work in fighting this menace by having the nations state the exact amount they required for medical purposes. It is felt that with the control of the manufacture of the drugs, the matter of preventing their illicit use would be a more simple matter to deal with.

Mrs. Northman, who presided, Rev. G. F. C. Pringle and Mrs. Parsons thanked the speaker at the close for his enlightening address.

Miss Dorothy Parsons delighted the gathering with solos, with Mrs. Grace Deaville at the piano.

Canadiens Carry Canada's Hopes For Pro Hockey Supremacy

THE SPOR'S MIRROR

France's Domination of Tennis World Again Aply Demonstrated

Frenchmen Likely to Retain Davis Cup for Several Years Yet

Most Expensive Teams in Hockey Don't Always Cop the Honors

Colorful Montreal Canadiens One of Cheapest Clubs in N.H.L.

FRANCE'S domination of the tennis world as far as men are concerned was clearly demonstrated again in the recent U.S. indoor tennis championships at New York and also in the special team match between the visiting French players and a quartette of U.S. youngsters. The French team, consisting of the veteran Jean Borotra and Christian Bousquet, scored a smashing victory over such world-famous players as Francis Van Ryne, Berkeley Bell, Francis Shields and George Lott. Borotra is a member of the French Davis Cup team, while Bousquet is one of the rising lights in French tennis. On the other hand, the four American youngsters are all prospects for the U.S. Davis Cup squad this year. Lott and Van Ryne were members last year.

If Borotra and Bousquet can visit the United States and take about the best of the American players against them into camp, just what is the French team, with the addition of the dashing Henri Cochet and possibly Rene La Coste, going to do in the Davis Cup matches this year? It just looks like another walkover for France. Of course the United States may not reach the finals, but they are pretty certain finalists. France has dominated Davis Cup play for the last four years. U.S. last winning the coveted trophy in the series at the Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, in 1924, and appear likely to hold the cup for a few years yet.

Persistent rumors that LaCoste will return to the game this spring is causing added interest in the approaching series. LaCoste, once called by Tilden "the greatest player of all time," quit the courts in 1928 because of lung trouble which seemingly was never cured. However, early this year LaCoste underwent an operation for appendicitis, and whether or not he will have recovered sufficiently to work in doubt. Even if LaCoste postpones his comeback for another year France will have Borotra, Cochet and Bousquet to fall back on. Borotra is expected to be out this season through ill-health. Bousquet is about the best of France's coming stars.

In many cases it isn't the most expensive hockey and baseball teams that produce results. For example, take the Montreal Canadiens, present world hockey champions and winners of the Canadian division championship this year in the National Hockey League. They are unquestionably the most colorful and most consistent club in pro hockey to-day. Yet they cost the least.

The following figures reveal what Canadiens and Falcons cost and what they're valued at to-day:

Of the six teams taking part in the present N.H.L. play-off series, but the Chicago Hawks and Toronto Maple Leafs have won the Stanley Cup at least once. The Canadiens have romped home with the bacon four times, in 1916, 1919, 1924 and 1930; Montreal Maroons, 1926; New York Rangers, 1928, and Boston, 1929. Back in 1918 the Toronto Arenas won it and the Toronto St. Pats captured the mug in 1923. In all, Montreal has enjoyed Stanley Cup victories fifteen times in thirty-seven years, thanks to such old-time teams as Montreal A.A.A., Wanderers, Victorias and Shamrocks, as well as the modern Canadiens and Maroons.

Montreal Maroons And Toronto Leafs Fade From Picture

Former Go Down to 3 to 0 Defeat at Hands of New York Rangers and Lose Series 8 to 1; Toronto Beaten 2 to 1 by Chicago in Fierce Struggle After Twenty Minutes Overtime; Adams Nets Winning Goal for Hawks; Canadiens Even Up Series With Boston by 1 to 0 Victory; George Mantha Drives Home Lone Goal; Rangers Will Now Play-off With Chicago.

Toronto, Ont., March 27.—On the dazzling speed and polished stickhandling ability of Les Canadiens de Montreal, depend Canadian hopes for retention of the Stanley Cup in the dominion. The colorful habitants to-day are the only Canadian squad remaining in the National Hockey League play-offs. Yesterday evening both Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Maroons were blasted from the world professional hockey championship picture.

The Leafs fell victim of a carefully-planned system of play developed by the Chicago board of strategy and lost out 2 to 1, after almost twenty minutes overtime. Having tied in the first game at Toronto, 2 to 2, the Leafs lost the round 4 to 3, and Hawks qualified to meet New York Rangers in the Stanley Cup semi-final.

Rangers duplicated their previous success over Maroons by blanking the Montrealers, 3 to 0, at the Forum. The Gothamites won the first game, 5 to 1, and therefore win the round by the decisive margin of 8 to 1.

Victory gave the Chicago Black Hawks the lead seven minutes after the start of the second period. The opening chapter was scoreless and fairly evenly contested. "Red" Horner drew the first penalty of the game, and while he was off the Hawks staged a furious attack on the Leaf goal, which resulted in the opening score. Ripley, who had been shot at by the net, "Ace" Bailey endeavored to ward the disc, but it was deflected past Lorne Chabot and into the twine.

CLANCY TIES SCORE Only three minutes remained of regulation play, time when Bostrum, bulky Hawk defenseman, was given a two-minute penalty for tripping, and the Duncans promptly sent up five men to the attack. King Clancy equalized the count by hammering Charlie Gardner's rebound past "Chuck" Gardner.

Cautious hockey marked the opening of the overtime. Stewart Adams, Hawk winger, was left uncovered near the twenty-minute mark and he took advantage of the Leafs' oversight to dash in and snare a pass credited to "Mush" March.

Maroons were not considered to have a chance of a chance to overcome the four-goal lead Rangers secured in New York on Tuesday and they didn't.

HILL COOK STARTS 'EM As in the first match, Bill Cook, the league's all-star right winger, started the Maroons on to certain victory by scoring the first goal seven minutes after the start of the second period. "Ching" Johnson and Paul Thompson notched another brace between them to complete the scoring.

The splendid performance of John Ross Roach, diminutive Ranger goalkeeper, earned him a shut-out, and he in the same class as George Hainsworth, who blanked the Bruins. These were the first shut-outs of the play-offs.

Boston, March 27.—Canadiens, playing airtight defensive hockey, squared their National League championship series by scoring a goal in the first period and holding the Boston Bruins in check for the remainder of the contest here yesterday evening. Both division leaders now have a victory each and will continue the series in Montreal on Saturday.

During the final minute, Manager Art Ross resorted to an amazing maneuver. In a final desperate scoring attempt, he pulled his goalie out of the game and replaced him with a forward. The Bruins kept the puck inside of enemy territory until the final bell, but the Flying Frenchmen's stubborn defence could not be cracked, and they held their 1-0 margin.

Canadiens' winning tally came from the stick of George Mantha, rugged wing player, late in the opening session. He joined Pete Lepine's rush and when the tall center fired before striking the Boston defencemen, he fought his way into position to play the Boston goalie's passout. The latter cleared to the right and Mantha blazed the puck back into the open side of the net.

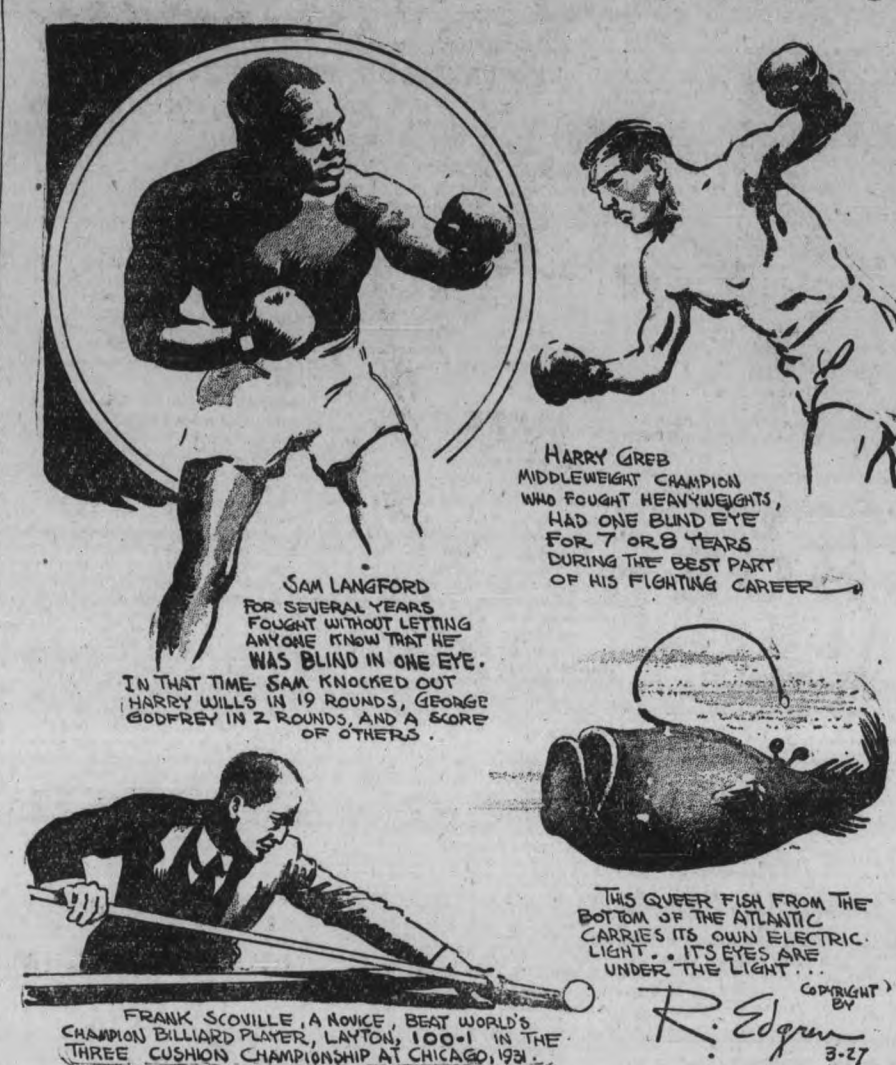

LINE-UPS Boston.—Thompson, Hitchman, Shore, Welland, Barry, Clapper, Sub. Gainer, Beattie, Oliver, Galbraith, Chapman, Darragh, Owen, Lyons. Canadiens.—Hainsworth, Burke, S. Mantha, Morens, Joliet, Gagnon, Sub. Lepine, Larochelle, Mondou, Wassie, Rivers, Leslure, O. Mantha, Leduc. Referee.—Hewitson and Ion.

SUMMARY First period.—1. Canadiens, George Mantha (Lepine), 13:47. Penalties: Shore. Second period.—No score. Penalties: Burke, Barry, Gagnon, Owen (major). Third period.—No score. Penalties: Burke, Barry, Gagnon, Owen (major).

Forum, Montreal, March 27.—A smart 3-0 shutout against Montreal Maroons gave New York Rangers the right to continue in the National Hockey League play-off series. Their win here yesterday evening gave them the round, 6-1, since they gave the Maroons a 5-1 trouncing in New York Tuesday night. A three-goal drive of the Rangers in the second period yesterday evening sealed the fate of the big red team. Their hockey is over for the season. The Maroons were soundly beaten yesterday evening. They started the game four goals down to the formidable Rangers, and at no time did they show signs of a possible miracle. Ranger forwards tore holes in the Maroon defence with their speedy skating and precise passing. Their backcheck-

"SOOPS" AND WINNIPEG IN BITTER DRAW

Hockey Teams Battle to 1-1 Score in Western Allan Cup Finals

Edmonton Confident of Winning Second Game; Truro Badly Beaten

Winnipeg, Man., March 27.—Halfway through the first western hockey final attained by an Alberta senior team in sixteen years, Edmonton Superiors to-day are laying plans to win the series in its second game Saturday night. Yesterday evening, the black-clad Alberta champs and conquerors of British Columbia's best, held to a 1-1 draw the Winnipeg, representing Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the Thunder Bay zone.

Two periods of cautiously grappling hockey in the series opened paved the way to a third and final session in which the "Soops" of Ira Stuart took the lead only to be set back on even terms by the Manitobans. Helly Walker, from his wrong wing, backhanded into the net the first goal, and Vic Linquist picked up the puck from a tangle in front of the Edmonton goal and slid it into the cage for the second.

On even terms after a grueling game on strange ice, Superiors step confidently into the second test. They figure the game will be a close one, and the Manitoba crew, and content that the foothills sextette sallied more dangerously into Winnipeg territory than did their foe into Alberta ground. And they are expecting a smoother showing from the "Soops," who checked the Pegg so closely that system-play on either team's part was impossible.

Eyeing the movement of Hamilton Tiger toward eastern honors, the Hughes men are expecting to show sufficiently better class to enter the Allan Cup final opening at Winnipeg next week. They expect that Cliff Crowley, who jumped back into the game yesterday evening after a long lay-off, will be in better form, and figure for a more systematic showing and more flashing speed in the second and crucial encounter.

Toronto, Ont., March 27.—Indications to-day point to a battle between representatives of central and western Canada for possession of the Allan Cup, senior amateur hockey's national emblem.

Truro Bearcats, famed throughout the land for their pluck in the long elimination grind while possessing only one relief player, met the Hamilton Tigers, classy champions of the Ontario Hockey Association, here yesterday evening and went down to defeat, 6 to 2. The powerful defence of "Beet" McKay and "Red" Farrell, supported by the brilliant work of Marsh in the nets, proved too powerful a combination for the Maritime Province Hopefuls to outguess with any degree of consistency. Tigers flashed pretty combination and capped their mid-ice play with deadly work around the Truro cage. They secured a three-goal lead in the first frame when Billy Louch scored twice in quick succession and Gonle McGowan, brainy centre, notched once, week.

LEARN TO SWIM DRIVE OPEN TO SEVENTY-FIVE MORE YOUNG CHILDREN

With only another day to register and but seventy-five vacancies left on the file, children between the ages of eight and fifteen years are given their last chance to enter The Times Second Annual Learn to Swim campaign to be staged at the Crystal Garden beginning April 1. Any wishing to take part in the courses are urged to communicate with the garden as soon as possible in order to secure the benefits of these free lessons.

This morning 425 kiddies had registered, 250 boys and 175 girls having placed their names on the list. Entrance into the classes will be closed to-morrow. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ellison will arrange the first classes over the weekend and the names of the first groups to be given lessons will be published in The Times on Monday.

Keen interest was shown in the campaign last year and scores of youngsters were taught how to handle themselves in the water.

LOUGHRAN TO MEET "TUFFY" THIS EVENING

Heavyweights Battle at Chicago For Honor of Meeting Jack Sharkey

Loughran With Seven Consecutive Victories Rules a 7 to 5 Favorite

Chicago, March 27.—A match with Jack Sharkey assured the winner, Tommy Loughran, master ringman from Philadelphia, will engage the rough Gerald Ambrose Griffiths of Sioux City, Iowa, in a ten-round battle at the Chicago stadium to-night.

The match is one of the outstanding heavyweight attractions of the indoor season, and despite its importance, there has been no general rush towards the box offices. Indications to-day were that the probable attendance would be 13,000, with gate receipts of $40,000. The reason for the apparent lack of interest was because Loughran ruled a firm seven to five favorite to outbox Griffiths.

Loughran, most active of all heavyweights, has scored seven consecutive victories during the current indoor season, with his sharpshooting left hand. He has King Levinsky, Dick Daniels, Max Baer, and Ernie Schaaf, among his recent victims. The smiling Philadelphia says he is in the best physical condition of his eleven years of ring activity and figures to enter the contest to-night, weighing about 185 pounds, with Griffiths scaling 187.

Griffiths, knowing that Loughran is not a killing puncher, plans to wage a rushing battle, because he realizes the futility of attempting to outbox the Philadelphia. Griffiths is a stiff puncher if he chooses to be and he hopes to score a stunning upset.

They held matters well in hand for the remainder of the game. The return game will be played here Saturday afternoon and the winning team on the round will entrain for Winnipeg where the Dominion championship finals will be played next week.

Scottish Will Meet Vancouver "Reps" In B.C. Final Saturday

Rest To-day After Good Practice Yesterday Evening in Preparation for British Columbia Championships Match Against Ex-King George at Royal Athletic Park; School Teams to Play in Curtain Raiser in Colonist Cup Series; Militiamen Boast Team Composed Almost Entirely of "Rep" Players.

After a snappy workout at the Armories yesterday evening, members of the Canadian Scottish, Victoria's contenders for the British Columbia senior rugby championship, were resting to-day in preparation for the titular battle against Ex-King George at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon. The game will start at 3.15 o'clock, following a schoolboys fixture between Boys' Central and South Park. Commander L. W. Murray will referee the feature encounter.

With but one more senior rugby game scheduled for Victoria after the provincial championship, interest is running high in the event, and hundreds of spectators are expected to throng to the park for the match. According to word from Vancouver, the Ex-Kings are in perfect shape and are counted on to provide a fast open game. Their scrum should give the Capitals plenty to worry about, and will have a slight edge as far as weight is concerned. Both back fields are expected to be in the pink of condition, and should be able to stand a terrific pace.

While the visitors will have the moral advantage of having recently sent the Vancouver reps down to defeat, this will be offset by the fact that virtually all members of the Canadian Scottish have, at one time or another, played on Victoria "rep" squads. The standard of play will consequently take on the significance not only of a provincial struggle, but almost of that of a McKeechle Cup fixture, although the result will not have any bearing on the latter league.

In the curtain ringer, Boys' Central will be striving to put a speedy end to The Colonist Cup League when they take the field against South Park. A victory for Central will clinch the silverware, while a win for South Park will create a three-cornered tie between these teams and Oaklands, and will necessitate a play-off series.

GOOD PRELIMINARY Both school teams are reported to be at wall strength and should put up a clever exhibition. Under the coaching of Johnny Rowland, well-known forward of the Victoria Reps, the South Park lads have shown a marked improvement over the early season play, and should be able to give their opponents, present holders of the trophy, a good run for their money.

The game will start at 2 o'clock, and the teams will line up as follows: Boys' Central, Fred Minnie, Ken Fleming, Sid Gaunt, Jack Phillips, Alex Macdonald, Austin Webster, Jack Ferguson, Brook Cornwall, Robert Miller, Bill Miller, William Noakes, Billy Wallis and Ralph Morrison. South Park—Coe, Dele, Simpson, Naysmith, Tuck, Jones, Kellow, Calderwood, Rendell, Watson, Mersey, Bennett and Rowland.

FEATURE MATCH The feature match of the day will be at Hurl Lane, when the two clubs who are fighting for second place and promotion in the Second Division clash. They are Tottenham Hotspurs and West Bromwich Albion. The Spurs have a three-point lead, but the Albion have a game in hand. The northern section of the Third Division will also produce a "crucial" game, when Lincoln City play Tranmere Rovers. They are tied on points at the top of the standing. In Scotland, the attraction will be the international match at Hampden Park.

Former Heavyweight Champ Makes Startling Announcement During Trial

Coliseum Club Suing For $500,000 Declare They Will Raise Cash For Bout

Chicago, March 27.—Jack Dempsey has said he would not fight again, but the old spirit is still there. He forgot all about his retirement yesterday during the Coliseum Club's $500,000 breach of contract suit against him, and offered to battle Harry Wills any time the plaintiff produces money to cover terms of the disputed contract.

Dempsey's offer was made dramatically, while Paddy Mullins, manager of the negro heavyweight, was testifying. "Let 'em put up the money; I'll fight him right now," he cried. The Coliseum Club, of which E. B. Clements is president, is suing the former heavyweight for failure to meet the New York negro before Dempsey lost his title to Gene Tunney in Philadelphia in 1926. Dempsey has claimed that there was no contract, as the Coliseum Club failed to make an advance payment of $125,000 to bind the agreement. He also was to have received an additional $225,000 before the fight.

Clements retorted that he would raise the money and that Dempsey would receive $300,000 by August, if he would win. He said about fighting Wills. Dempsey insisted he was ready any time. Nothing has been heard from Wills, although he was to have appeared to testify.

The case continued to-day, with admission of testimony for the plaintiff as the point of argument.

MILLIONAIRES WIN Los Angeles, March 27.—The Los Angeles Millionaires defeated the Oakland Sheikhs 4 to 1 in a California professional ice hockey league game here yesterday evening.

ARSENAL AND VILLA SHOULD BE WINNERS

Two Leaders in English First Division Soccer Expected to Gain Points To-morrow

Tottenham and West Bromwich Meet in Feature Game; Internationals at Scotland

London, March 27.—There should be little change in the positions of the two leading teams of the English First Division in the championship table after to-morrow's soccer matches. Arsenal, the leaders, should beat their opponents, even though they must make the long trip to Middlesbrough, while Aston Villa, runners-up and three points behind, should defeat Blackpool at Aston.

Whatever happens, Arsenal can not be displaced as leader in to-morrow's match, though defeat will be a setback with the end of the season just round the corner. At the bottom of the table, Leeds United and Manchester United look doomed. Each will probably lose to-morrow, the former to ably loose to-morrow, the latter to Chelsea at Stamford Bridge, and the latter at home to Huddersfield United. If Leeds can win and Blackpool loses, the latter club will come within danger zone. Grimsby Town, Bolton Wanderers and Birmingham are also dangerously near the precipice. By the irony of the draw, Grimsby Town and Birmingham, and the fight for points will doubtless be a tense one.

FEATURE MATCH The feature match of the day will be at Hurl Lane, when the two clubs who are fighting for second place and promotion in the Second Division clash. They are Tottenham Hotspurs and West Bromwich Albion. The Spurs have a three-point lead, but the Albion have a game in hand. The northern section of the Third Division will also produce a "crucial" game, when Lincoln City play Tranmere Rovers. They are tied on points at the top of the standing. In Scotland, the attraction will be the international match at Hampden Park.

Eddie Roush Goes To Cincinnati By The Waiver Route

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 27.—Eddie Roush, veteran centerfielder, was obtained yesterday by the Cincinnati Reds from the New York Giants for the National League waiver price.

Roush had a salary difference with the Giants last year and remained out of the game during 1930. He recently was reinstated. He played with the Reds from 1916 to 1926.

Hottest Race In Years Forecast For National League

Six Teams Must Be Considered In Selecting Winner

St. Louis, Chicago, New York, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and Boston Will Face Barrier With Greatly Strengthened Clubs; Fighting Spirit and Fine Organization of St. Louis, Last Year's Winners, Makes Them Strong Contenders; Chicago Cubs Appear Biggest Threat to Their Supremacy; National Leaguers Hope to Regain World Title.

By ALAN GOULD

New York, March 27.—That dull, booming sound heard this spring all the way from Clearwater, Fla., to Catalina Island, California, may have sounded like the coast artillery at practice but it merely is the blasting operations of baseball's heavy duty boys, tuning up for one of the hottest pennant races the old National League ever has had in prospect.

The task of selecting a probable winner in the forthcoming battle is just as much guesswork as it was in trying to detect the eventual winner last August, before the St. Louis Cardinals braced and rushed to the front.

ELMWOODS AND OTTAWA READY

Junior Hockey Teams Meet in Final Game For Canadian Title To-night

Ottawa, Ont., March 27.—With a capacity crowd certain to witness the deciding struggle for Canadian junior hockey supremacy to-night at the auditorium Ottawa Primrose and Winnipeg Elmwoods are set and ready for their hardest test of the season. Not in years has the achievements of a hockey team so attracted the capital. Edgar Rockburn remains the only serious casualty on the Primrose line-up but the durable little defence player is certain to start alongside Stan Pratt on the rear guard. Coach Alie Garland is not likely to make known his starting line-up until game time but it is highly probable that Bill Cowley will beat centre. With Eddie Cadieux and Dan Corley holding down the wing berths.

Bill Sharp, "Tag" Miller and Roy Marsh will again form the reserve strength. Elmwoods arrived in the capital early yesterday evening and were met by a delegation of local sportsmen. Manager Adams reported all the players in good shape for to-night's game. He stated they had not desired to play the third game in Ottawa preferring Toronto's ice. However, the game had been transferred here by the amateur authorities and they were prepared to make the best of it.

The westerners went through a light practice session at the auditorium this morning, getting used to the egg-shaped ends of the rink which frequently throw visiting teams off their stride.

The Greatest Playmaker To-day?

By JIMMY THOMPSON

It's not so long ago that Joe Primeau was whipping the hockey fans of Toronto's Industrial League into a chaos of excitement. This rather light centre was the object of conversation but when the news broke that he had turned professional with the Toronto Leafs, the wise guys threw up their hands in disgust and said that he could never stand the game. The first few years looked as though they were right for the road for Joe was hard and discouraging. However, after three years in the minor pro loops he finally made the jump into the big tent. Some people still insist that the going will prove too hard for Joe. When Joe weighed in last October at the Maple Leafs training camp he weighed 147 and his weight taken in the middle of February was 165 pounds, which not only shows that he is standing the rough ride but is getting fat on it.

MONSTER SKI MEET CARDED

Crack U.S. and Canadian Jumpers Will Take Part in Event at Grouse Mountain

Seattle, March 27.—Seattle ski jumpers, who have conquered all the hills there are to conquer hereabouts, head for Vancouver and the Grouse Mountain Ski Club's Northwestern International tournament on April 3.

Grouse Mountain sent a flock of jumpers to the Olympic game try-outs at Squamish Pass, and several more to the annual tournament of the Seattle Ski Club.

In a letter yesterday, Jack Melville, president of the British Columbia organization, urges that all Seattle skiers able to make the trip send in their entries.

Awarding of the tournament to the Grouse Mountain Club, he said, was in a measure regarded by club officials as an opportunity to reciprocate courtesies extended Vancouver skiers at interior points and all ski meets in Washington and Oregon, and it is the Grouse Mountain Club's desire to have all the ski jumpers possible in attendance.

EXPECT GOOD ENTRY
While it could not be definitely announced yesterday how many Seattle skiers would make the trip, which falls on Good Friday, it was thought at least half a dozen, if not more, will attend.

Portland is sure to send John Elvrum, its outstanding champion, who won the Squamish Pass tournament on March 1, and the Cascade Ski Club tournament at Malheur Mountain last Sunday. Hege Sather, John Albanson, Erling Thompson and some of the outstanding northwest jumpers are almost sure to go.

Pinhurst, N.C., March 27.—Joe Turnesa of Elmford, N.Y., yesterday evening held a one-stroke lead over the field after the first thirty-six holes of play in the twenty-ninth annual north and south seventy-two-hole open golf tournament. His two rounds of 70 and 72 netted him a half-way score of 142.

A stroke behind at 143 and tied for second and third positions were Bobby Cruikshank, Purchase, N.Y., and Wilby Cox, Brooklyn.

Johnny Golden of Noroton, Conn., shot two steady rounds in identical figures of 72 for 144 and fourth place.

FARRELL SLIPS
Johnny Farrell, one of the leaders after the morning round, when he fired a 70, encountered troubles on the greens coming in yesterday afternoon and required a 73 for a total of 143. Billy Burke of Greenwich, Conn., the 1928 winner, also had 143.

Wrestler Seeks $10,000 Damages From Two Fans

Portland, Ore., March 27.—Gus Kallio, claimant to the world middleweight wrestling crown, filed suit in federal district court yesterday against Leonard Gettise and "Buck Wilson," true name unknown, for $10,000 damages for personal injuries.

Kallio alleged he suffered a fractured jaw and the loss of several teeth March 10 when the two men kicked and beat him after he had been thrown from the ring during a wrestling match at Astoria, Ore.

The alleged attack was without provocation, complainant charges.

FINE CLEAN SPORT

To the Sports Editor:—On Wednesday evening not having anything else to do I found myself at the Tillamook Athletic Club, being naturally interested in wrestling, and a stranger in your city, and past the age at which most men take an active interest in sports.

Seating myself in one of the chairs, I became the spectator of a class of young boys, who went through a series of exercises worthy of well-trained soldiers. Then they went on the wrestling mat, and although I was given to understand that these boys have only been taking up this form of sport for a short while, it was to me wonderful to see these boys taking hard bumps, such as would have made many an older person cry quits, without so much as a sign that they felt lame.

Then a class of older boys came on the floor went through a set of exercises, followed by a series of practice wrestling holds, then short bouts, in pairs, and though they seemed to come down pretty hard on each other, they seemed to get a lot of enjoyment out of it. I must say that it gave me a great deal of pleasure to see boys spending their time in such a healthy way, and at such a manly sport, which without a doubt is the greatest of all sports. Many people say it is brutal, but when we consider the age of these men who follow the sport for a living, it can not be so bad because of the age at which these men still keep going. For my part I would be a thousand times rather have my boys take up wrestling than have them spending their time on street corners, or at the shows, and so would any other parent who thinks anything of their children.

The city of Victoria ought to be thankful that they have such a place where the boys can get such a wonderful opportunity.

Good luck to the club which is making it possible for the youngsters to have such an investment. May this club carry on for a long time to come. A LOVER OF WRESTLING AND CLEAN SPORT.

Times Softball Team Will Hold Practice Sunday

A practice of The Times softball team will be held on Sunday morning at Beacon Hill Park, commencing at 10 o'clock. All last year's players and any others interested are invited to turn out.

TOLMIE CUP GAMES ARE ON SCHEDULE

Esquimalt Will Tackle Jokers in Feature Football Match To-morrow Afternoon

John Watt Will Return to Dockers' Line-up; Victoria Wests Play Victoria City

To-morrow's First Division football programme will see four senior teams engaging in Tolmie Cup matches. At the Beacon Hill grounds, Esquimalt, league champions, will clash with the Jokers, while at the Central Park Victoria City and Victoria West will meet. Both games will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

Considerable importance is attached to the match at Beacon Hill. A victory for the Jokers will put them in the lead for the silverware as they are at present tied with Seaforth Thistles for the leading berth. Should Esquimalt win it will tighten up the race for the trophy.

With John Watt, their hard-shooting centre forward back in the game, Esquimalt will be at full strength for the match. Watt has been on the injured list for several weeks with a twisted knee. The remainder of the Esquimalt team will be as usual. The Jokers will be at full strength so a fine match should result.

The Wests-City match should see the former come through to a victory. Both these clubs are out of the running for the cup but should put on a good exhibition.

ELDERLY WOMEN LEARN TO SWIM

Several Who Never Were in Bathing Suits Before Now in Class at Crystal Garden

Young, middle-aged and elderly women, whose horror of deep water was only exceeded by their desire to swim, are now splashing about in the Crystal Garden well on the way to making themselves perfectly at home in the tank.

They have taken advantage of the free classes offered by the management of the Crystal Garden and are now reaping the benefits. Of a registration of thirty-five, fifteen have been regular attendants and have been given five or six lessons. Eight of the more hardy are able to keep themselves afloat. These as well as many others have also taken up diving and have progressed as far as the second stage, where they are taught to leap from the pool's edge.

Under the capable instruction of Mrs. C. F. Ellison, the class has shown remarkable progress. Two or three women who had never been in swimming suits before are now on the way to become swimmers.

In the business men's division, fourteen have registered and are showing good progress under C. F. Ellison.

Play By Play Account Of Play-off Games In National Hockey League

A play by play description of the three play-off games in the National Hockey League yesterday evening follows:

TORONTO VS. CHICAGO
First Period

Johnny Gottselig gave the Leafs a scare in the opening seconds, lifting one from the blue line that almost took Chabot by surprise. Joe Primeau came right back and single-handedly rapped a hard one off Bardner's shins from close in. Both teams were playing carefully, and the Leafs defence looked strong against the Hawks assaults.

The Leafs suddenly opened up and Primeau, Conacher and Cotton whipped in, but encountered a stout defence that saved Gardiner trouble. Mid-period play produced plenty of skating between the blue lines, but neither team appeared willing to take chances, and few shots were had.

Second Period
In the second frame the Hawks slashed in and Ingram, Somers and Arbour had Chabot on the ice. He fell on the puck on Ingram's shot and saved Red Horner rushed ingram to the boards, drawing the first penalty of the game, and the Black Hawks strove mightily to take advantage. They finally did with Ripley heating Chabot.

The Hawks score stung the Leafs and they had five men up the ice in an attempt to even it up. Day bounced a side shot off Gardiner's chest and Somers took it right back, but failed to get past Horner.

Third Period
Toronto stuck right at it, and four and five men were kept up in the Hawk end of the rink. Gardiner was spilled twice and only splendid aid from Abel and Wentworth kept him from being beaten. The Hawks had only two shots in the first seven minutes—a pair of 2 ones by Arbour.

The defenceless style almost cost the Leafs another goal. Ripley got behind the Toronto defence men and let fly at Chabot, who, however, made a nice save.

The Leafs were so desperate that they refused to alter their game and Gardiner was constantly in hot water. When Bostram was sent to the coop Toronto put on more pressure and scored.

Out of the maze of players, King Clancy took a pass from Charlie Conacher and blazed it into the net to tie the score.

There were just three minutes left after the score was tied, and the Leafs stayed right down there trying, but failed to add one. The game went into extra time.

Overtime Period
They went back to the cautious, experimental brand of hockey, and the Hawks score stung the Leafs and they had five men up the ice in an attempt to even it up.

Double Champs In U.S. Indoor Tennis Win Way to Finals

Brookline, Mass., March 27.—Mrs. George W. Wightman and Sarah Palfrey, defending champions in the women's U.S. indoor tennis doubles play, gained the final round here yesterday by defeating Mrs. J. Lewis Bremer and Mrs. G. B. Harding, both of Boston, 7-5, 6-3, on the Longwood covered courts.

The other last bracket was clinched by Mrs. C. J. Hubbard Jr. of Cambridge, and Margaret Blake of Lenox, when they defeated Mrs. J. D. Corbier, of Southboro, and Mrs. William Endicott, Boston, in an extra-set semi-final match, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

There was no competition in the singles play.

London, March 27.—Macdonald Smith, first of the overseas aspirants for Bobby Jones's British open golf title, arrived in Plymouth yesterday and immediately set out for Scotland and his old home town of Carnoustie, where his championship will be decided in June.

MISS VAN WIE IS BRILLIANT

Chicago Girl Scores Remarkable 73 in Mid-south Women's Golf Play

Southern Pines, N.C., March 27.—Virginia Van Wie flashed around the championship course here ten strokes under women's par, yesterday, for a 73 and a substantial lead in the half-way mark of the mid-south women's thirty-six-hole medal play tournament.

The Chicago girl turned in a score of 70, but a ruling by the tournament committee later held that she was entitled to throw out without penalty on the eleventh hole when her fairway shot landed in a hole on the course. By applying this ruling her total was reduced by three strokes.

Miss Van Wie held a seven-stroke advantage over Edith Quier, Reading, Pa., with 41-39-80.

Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, and Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., each with an 83, appeared to be the only other contenders in the field. Only one can 80 who held even an outside chance of overtaking Miss Van Wie on the final eighteen holes to-day.

AT THE THEATRES

GRETA GARBO HAS PARIS MODEL ROLE AT THE DOMINION

From gorgeous creations, exquisite toilettes and lavish surroundings, Greta Garbo goes to threadbare costumes, unkemptness and squalor in "Inspiration," her latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking picture which will close tonight at the Dominion Theatre.

The change is not a gradual one but comes with a dramatic suddenness as the central plot of the story reaches its crucial point.

The story was written especially for the Swedish star by Gene Markey and depicts a romantic episode in the life of a Paris model.

Clarence Brown directed the new Garbo film. Robert Montgomery heads the supporting cast which includes Lewis Stone, Marjorie Rambeau, Beryl Mercer, Judith Vosselli, John Miljan, Edwin Maxwell, Zaida Sears, Oscar Apfel, Joan Marsh and Gwen Lee.

STAR AT PLAYHOUSE COMES FROM FAMILY OF SCREEN PLAYERS

Helen Parrish, who plays an important role with William Boyd in "His First Command," Pathe's picture of the United States Cavalry, which is being seen and heard at the Playhouse Theatre to-day, is one of a family of four children who are rapidly coming to the front in their screen careers. Helen, who is six years old, is the youngest. The others are Beverly, ten; Robert, thirteen, and Gordon, sixteen. Helen first attracted attention two years ago when she won a Better Babies Contest conducted by the Los Angeles Evening Express.

ARIZONA DESERT IS SETTING OF STORY HERE AT COLUMBIA

When J. Farrell MacDonald and Will Walling recently went to the Arizona desert to appear in Bill Boyd's latest Pathe star picture, "The Painted Desert," which is being shown at the Columbia Theatre to-day, it was the second time they had endured the hardships of the dry wastelands in the interest of motion pictures. Both were members of the cast of "The Iron Horse," produced six years ago on the same location. Howard Higgin directed "The Painted Desert." Boyd's supporting cast includes Helen Twelvetrees, William Farnum, Clark Gable, Charlie Sellen and others.

MOVIE MAN IS HEARD AT VIKING INQUIRY

By E. A. Jeffery, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

St. John's, Nfld., March 27.—Henry J. Sargent, sole survivor of the United States motion picture trio aboard the sealer Viking when disaster overtook the vessel off northern Newfoundland, gave evidence yesterday when the commission investigating the tragedy held its first public sitting. Chief Justice Sir William Horwood, chairman, and two other members are conducting the inquiry.

Sargent denied the statement attributed to him that the boatwain had complained of carelessness in handling the gunpowder, and that powder had been swept up from the deck. He did not know where the magazine was situated.

DANGER NOTICES

The danger of an explosion on sealing ships had been a topic of discussion among crew members, he said. They had been referring to the remarks made on this subject in George Allan England's book. There was a danger, police over the lavatory door. He thought the powder was stored there. The boatwain had suggested to Varlek Prissell, director of the little movie "arty, that he make another movie for the cabin door and just before the explosion Prissell had been jokingly questioning whether it should read "powder—danger" or "danger—powder."

The ship was electrically lighted, but all lamps were used twenty per cent of the time. Captain Kean had gone to his bunk. Then there were two heavy lurches and he rushed up on deck. The explosion came two minutes afterwards. "The witness heard no noise and did not know if he had been flung on deck. He was conscious of a terrific volume of gas and flame pouring from the companionway."

The decks were level with the sea, which was filled with loose ice and water astern. It was easy for a person to drown, said Sargent. He owed his life to the sternpost immediately behind him.

Langford

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hillborn are staying at Bagshot Lodge, Langford Lake.

Mr. H. G. Baynes entertained on Wednesday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Eva Hazel's, eleventh birthday. A paper chase, swinging and games were enjoyed by the children. An iced birthday cake centred the supper table. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. M. A. Barnes, Mrs. W. Hamilton, Mrs. S. A. Reynolds, Mrs. J. Stephens and Mrs. C. E. Hayeroff. Children present were Pamela Bennett, Molly Dixon, Barbara Hayeroff, Gladys and Micky Staverman, Clara Malcolm, Elsie and Evelyn Smith, Nellie Matson, Hazel and Betty Baynes, Ronnie Stephen, Henry Bennett, David Reynolds, Oswald Hincks, Freddy Staverman, William Barnes and Charles Baynes.

Mrs. Dan Malcolm is visiting Seattle as the guest of her son, Norman Malcolm.

Service to-morrow at St. Matthew's Church will be in the morning at 11 o'clock.

The Langford Conservative Association will meet on Monday, at 8 o'clock, at Langford Lakeside. Hon. R. H. Pooley will speak and refreshments will be served.

A confirmation class will be held to-morrow evening, at 8:15 o'clock, following the choir practice, in St. Matthew's Church.

BRITISH BURLESQUE OF WAR DAYS WILL OPEN AT COLISEUM

The musical burlesque from the studios of British International Pictures which will open to-morrow at the Coliseum Theatre, tells the story of the kitchen staff of the Hotel Royal, where the members of the staff are in the throes of preparing a regimental dinner. Bob, the manager, goes to court with Smith, the chef. As they stand talking the street band strikes up a wartime melody. Suddenly all the kitchen staff stand still. They are all ex-service men and become lost in the memories that the melody recalls. They seem to live again those war years, remembering their days in the cafes behind the lines, and all the good times they had.

LOIS MORAN PLAYS IN GRIPPING FILM OF CANADIAN WILDS

An enthusiastic audience was held spellbound yesterday evening at the Capitol Theatre during the many episodes in the Movietone outdoor song thriller, "Under Suspicion." Lois Moran and J. Harold Murray portray the featured roles in this taut gripping drama which was filmed at Jasper Park and around the Canadian Rockies of love and adventure in the Canadian wilderness. The hero, a man under a cloud due to his suspicious activities as a flying ace, takes the appellation of John Smith and tries to lose his identity by joining the Canadian Mounties. He is hard pressed to retain his secret, however, especially when he meets the daughter of his captain and a jealous suitor tells the girl something of Mr. Smith's career. A thrilling rescue of a hunter adds to Smith's laurels, but matters reach a crisis when he is called upon to save the captain from a dangerous forest fire and flies a plane through the blinding smoke to reach him.

Miss Moran's portrayal is ideal and, in fact, the entire cast gives a splendid account of itself with J. M. Kerrigan, Marie Saxon and Lumsden Hare deserving special mention.

FEARSOME TIGERS ARE VILLAINS IN THE COLISEUM FEATURE

Naturalists and statisticians of vital facts agree that the tiger is one of the most dangerous animals living in the world today. These beasts kill thousands of men, women and children annually in the equatorial regions where they live. Tigers in their natural state can be seen in "Rango," now at the Coliseum. They play the equivalent roles of "villains" in this strange and absorbing tale of primitive Sumatra.

Victoria is to have hourly connection by air with Seattle and Vancouver, commencing May 1, it was learned today. Flying boats built at the Boeing factory in Vancouver will be used in the service. United States interests will finance the venture.

SCOTCH TRADE DELEGATION IS

A. E. Pollard, British Trade Commissioner for Western Canada, Making Plans

Woolen Mission Now in the United States Will Start Canadian Tour at Victoria

To complete arrangements for the reception of the Scotch woolen trade delegation under J. Macpherson Brown, which is expected to reach Victoria April 14, Alfred E. Pollard, British trade commissioner for western Canada, is at the Empress Hotel to-day from Vancouver.

The delegation, which has been sent out by the British Government, is now in the United States, and will arrive here from Seattle to start the Canadian tour from Victoria.

It is purely a trade delegation obtaining information which is expected to lead to the development of the Scotch woolen business on this continent.

Mr. Pollard arrived in the city yesterday and has since been interviewing the delegates, which has been placed solely in his hands. This afternoon he is interviewing members of the government.

It is probable a welcoming dinner will be held here as well as in Vancouver.

Former Chicagoan Told Hawaiians Of Canadian Flag

Oscar A. Olson Returned By Niagara After Spending Three Months at Honolulu

It was left to a former Chicagoan to explain all about the origin of the Canadian flag to the people of Honolulu.

Oscar A. Olson, who was a resident of Chicago for thirty years before he came to Vancouver and became a Canadian, returned yesterday evening by the liner Niagara after spending three months in the Hawaiian group. They were accompanied by Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Conway of Vancouver.

As the envoy of the Vancouver Rotary Club, of which he is a charter member, Mr. Olson left here by the Empress of Japan on December 20 for the Hawaiian Islands, where he is well known. He explained on his return yesterday that the chief object of his tour had been to address the Honolulu Rotary Club on the origin of the Canadian flag.

Mr. Olson is a keen student of history, and probably knows more about Canada's flag than most Canadians. He is also well posted on the history of the Hawaiian Islands, and has frequently addressed luncheon groups in Victoria and Vancouver on the life and habits of the native Hawaiians.

On his return here by the Niagara Mr. Olson was greeted by Rotarians. He was greatly interested in the recent return of James W. Davidson aboard the S.S. Empress of Canada after three years touring and organizing Rotary in many countries of the world.

Mr. Olson is a naturalized Canadian, and has been a prominent business man of Vancouver for many years.

Calgary Brewer Arrives Here To Recuperate

Stating that he was here recuperating from sickness and that his visit had no business significance whatever, Emil G. Sick of Calgary, head of a combination of important brewery interests in Alberta, arrived at the Empress Hotel to-day accompanied by his wife.

He said he had spent the last two weeks in Vancouver and planned to remain with his wife in Victoria for at least a week before returning to Calgary.

Mr. Sick is manager of the Associated Breweries Ltd., which includes the Lehighville, New Edmontown, Regina and Prince Albert Breweries. He is also president of the Great Western Airways Ltd.

It was Mr. Sick's organization which wished to establish a brewery at Victoria, the plans for which failed to materialize.

A. M. Manson, K.C., Attacks Government's Policies

Bursary Plan Viewed as Scheme to Aid Government's Friends

Regrets that discussion of university matters had been relegated by the government to the rank of the session of the Legislature, in view of the importance of the University of British Columbia as the capstone of the education system of the province, were voiced by A. M. Manson, K.C., Omnipotent, Liberal, in the Legislature this morning. "We are driven to the conclusion that there is something wrong with the mental attitude of the Minister of Education regarding the educational problems. I say advisedly, I fear his attitude is of the meddling and mischievous kind."

Mr. Manson said no one could criticize the minister's energy, but Mr. Hinchliffe's attitude towards education was shown recently in his reply to the member for Skeena regarding the province and Rhodes scholarships, an attitude which had aroused widespread resentment and protests. He pointed out that the university was legally bound to accept matriculants and cannot refuse admission to any who passed matriculation standards set up and that university education was not subject to the same control as the school public and high and the normal schools. The latter produced teachers and the supply should be limited to accord with provincial demands, but that principle was not applicable to university students, since the object of a university was cultural and not entirely practical.

Mr. Manson said assumption by the minister that boys completing high school had determined their vocations was incorrect. Many men, who as a result of college training were valuable assets to the state, did not know their future course until after they had spent one, two or three years in university.

He charged Mr. Hinchliffe with having made the university the creature of political whim, whereas the former administration had kept the university out of politics.

WRONG POLICIES

The principle of selection of students and the method of finance were unsound. The reasonable and business-like basis would be for the university appropriation to be fixed for a period of about five years, then the Board of Governors could tell what finances they would have to work with and continuity of courses could be provided.

Bursaries were excellent, but award of bursaries being within the power of the government was unsound educationally and should be a matter for the Senate of the University. "It would appear that the establishment of these government-controlled bursaries is a scheme to enable the government to award handsome cash prizes to the children of its friends," he charged, declaring "the effect of the minister's brush with

What a happy baby!

BABY'S happiness is so largely a matter of health and comfort. If he frets and cries, it's quite likely a rash, or a chafed skin or a stopped up nose is making him miserable. You'll be wise to prevent these little troubles with "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly.

After the baby's bath, apply a light film of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly all over the delicate skin—head, too. Then with little cotton swabs on toothpicks, very gently apply to the baby's nostrils. This cleanses and lubricates them and tends to prevent colds.

These are safe, easy things to do. "Vaseline" Jelly has been used for babies by mothers and doctors and in great hospitals for more than half a century. And remember when you buy that the trade-mark Vaseline on the label is your assurance that you are getting the genuine product of the Chesebrough Manufacturing Co., Cons'd, 5520 Chabot Ave., Montreal, Canada.

EXTRAVAGANCE BROUGHT ABOUT INCOME LEVY

Government Profligacy Made Tax Necessary, Says Pattullo

Shelly and Maitland Rise in Defence of Finance Minister

Brief but emphatic objections to the one per cent levy on wages marked the second reading of the bill in the Legislature, which was followed by a straight party vote, with Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie, voting with the Liberals against the tax.

After Hon. J. W. Jones had spoken on the second reading of the Special Revenue Bill and the Taxation Act, which cover the new taxes and the administration of them, T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, registered his objections and Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., minister without portfolio, and Hon. W. C. Shelly, President of the Council, supported the Finance Minister.

Mr. Pattullo called for a division, and on the straight party vote J. H. Beatty, Conservative, Victoria, and H. P. Kergin, Liberal, Atlin, and J. W. Berry, Conservative, Delta, and Wells Gray, Liberal, New Westminster, paired.

Debate on the second reading of the Special Revenue Act was adjourned at the afternoon session by Mr. Pattullo.

TERRIBLE EXTRAVAGANCE

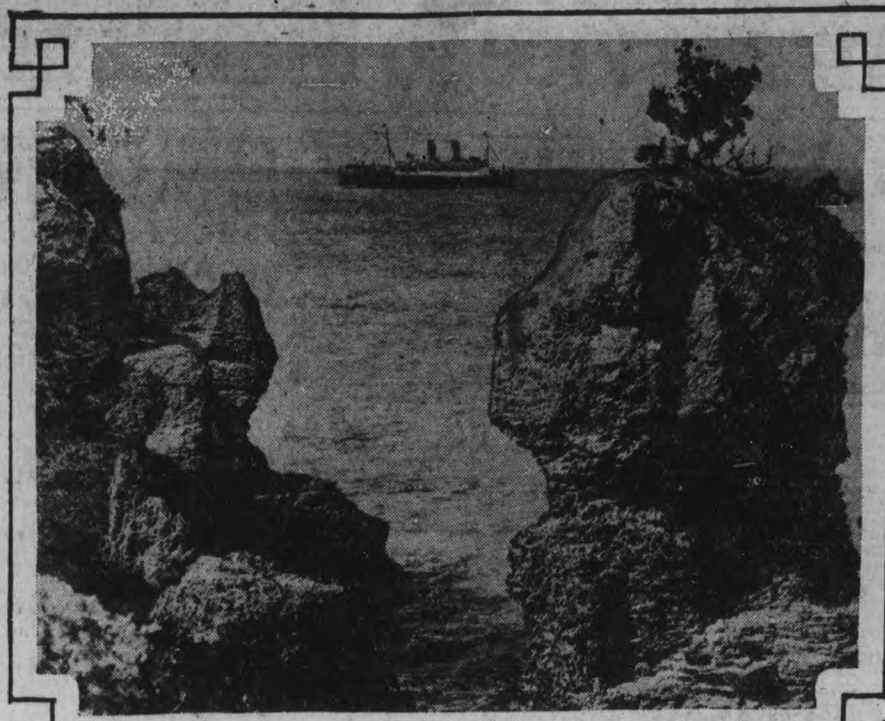

Speaking of the new income tax levy, he said the mouse had labored and brought forth a mountain of $2,500,000 by reason of the profligacy of the present administration. The snout of taxation was protruding everywhere to bring in the filthy lucre. The tax would be unnecessary if reasonable prudence had been exercised when the government entered office. It had been said the taxes were necessary because of the previous administration, but he declared the Liberal government made provision through taxes to take care of every dollar it incurred and had just started to reduce taxes. Sinking fund provisions were made for all its undertakings. Extravagances of the present government alone were to blame for the need for the tax. As instances he quoted the Liquor Board staff increases and costlier premises with profits lower and an increase of 192 in the civil service apart from outside branches of the service. He noted the minister had anticipated a revenue of $2,500,000 from the tax. Since this was the same amount as before the exemptions were widened either the first anticipation was wrong, the second anticipation was wrong or he would be short in the estimates. The estimates in any event, he said, were merely set to give an appearance of balancing, whereas they did not balance at all.

BIG AND MANLY

Mr. Maitland said the records did not show the previous government did not pay as it went along or make provisions for its undertakings such as Sumas and Okanagan schemes. These wild and ill-considered schemes would be a burden for years to come. Regarding the objections to the levy as at first proposed on incomes of $12, he admired the courage of the Minister of Finance in being big enough and manly enough to say that he had reconsidered his original proposal and to say he would present another which would be received with greater favor by the public.

Mr. Shelly thought the leader of the opposition should be the last to charge extravagance. Schemes which he had supported were costing the government a million dollars a year in interest, he said. When the Conservatives took over office they found 86 per cent of the revenue was earmarked for years to come.

"Does that keep her satisfied?"
"No, just pacified."

NEW MARKET MEASURE UP

Growers' Sale Bill Introduced to Legislature By Col. Lister

Following presentation of the agricultural committee's report recommending introduction of the Growers' Sales Bill at yesterday's sitting of the Legislature, Col. Fred Lister, chairman of the committee, moved the bill for first reading. The committee's report does not embody any endorsement of the principle of the bill. It merely recommends introduction.

The way is now opened for the House to deal with the proposed central selling scheme advocated by the co-operatives of the Okanagan fruit country.

"Hate" Lines Of Anthem Questioned

London.—The National Anthem has been receiving attention here, not for the first time, but on this occasion on the complaint of a correspondent who informed a church dignitary that in parts the anthem is unchristian and indecent. He even went so far as to describe the second verse as blasphemous "when sung in a cathedral." One may wonder why, without solving the problem.

The peculiarly offensive lines are:
"Confound their politics,
Frustrate their knavish tricks
On Thee our hopes we fix . . ."
That may not be poetry, but many people sang it with full conviction and satisfaction in and after 1914. So one does not anticipate that even those lines of the anthem will be deleted or revised.

THE VALUE OF TRADITION

The matter has even been discussed in Parliament. Mr. Mander asked the Prime Minister if he would consider the question of advising that when the National Anthem was sung on special occasions for which the government was responsible a new and more appropriate second verse should be substituted for the one traditionally in use.

Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who replied, said:—In this matter tradition is everything, and the government do not propose to try to improve on it.

Mr. Mander—Is the right hon. gentleman aware that there is a widespread feeling throughout the country, and will the Prime Minister be prepared to listen to any representations that may be brought before him?

Mr. Snowden—I am not aware of the existence of any widespread feeling. It may be information to the hon. member to know that the words to which the tune is sung are no part of the National Anthem. It is only the tune itself that is the National Anthem.

Clever Woman Litigant Should Have Had Darling

London.—Lord Darling would have had some fun if, on his present return to help in the King's Bench, at the age of eighty-two, he had encountered the sort of litigant that Lord Cockburn had to deal with when he, like Lord Darling, emerged from retirement to give temporary help, and on his nineteenth birthday heard a case in which Mrs. Weldon was engaged.

Mrs. Weldon was very fond of litigation, and used to conduct her cases herself. When her case was called she was not present, and it was explained that she was addressing the Court of Appeal.

"This lady has such a business in the courts now," said Cockburn, "that I suppose we must allow her a little indulgence."

Mrs. Weldon having complained that one judge was too old to do her justice and another too young, was asked by Lord Esher what age she wanted a judge to be, to which she responded, "Your age!" A meeting between her and Lord Darling would have been worth while.

Strange things—strange ways—have left their pristine traces among Canada's aborigines. Here we see a mighty strange totem with wings, unusual. And in the background may be seen the prow of ancient dugout.

U.S. SPRING WHEAT ACREAGE SMALLEST SINCE 1924, BUT CORN LARGEST SINCE 1917

Washington, March 27.—Government report of Thursday afternoon on the prospective acreages of various grains, indicates the total in prospect for corn is the largest since 1917 when it was 115,730,000 acres.

Spring wheat acreage is the smallest since 1924.

"Congestion apparently has developed in July wheat and with closing of spring wheat at delivery and September and between Chicago and Winnipeg as well," The Chicago Tribune to-day says.

"For some time past it has been popular to sell July wheat in Chicago against purchases at Winnipeg and Liverpool, and as a hedge against purchases of corn. This has resulted in a strong technical position in the nearby month and with expectations that old wheat will be held at 87 by the Stabilization Corporation at the end of the season, the trade now sees visions of a scramble developing for first run of the new winter crop after harvest, which is expected to have a great deal of effect on the July."

"News from abroad is more encouraging to the bulls," The Journal of Commerce to-day says. "There appears to be less fear of heavy Russian selling this spring."

"An indication that the Federal Farm Board made headway on its campaign to induce farmers to reduce their acreage in wheat was given in the report of the Department of Agriculture on spring wheat intention. The report said that farmers on March 1 were to plant only 76.1 per cent as much durum as they planned in 1930.

"Traders realize these intentions will be governed by weather from now until the end of seeding time."

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, March 27.—Wheat: Another dull and featureless wheat market was seen to-day. There was no particular pressure, but outside of a little buying by seaboard houses at the start, and a little short covering around midseason the demand was very limited. Any appearing was confined to buying Winnipeg May against sales of Chicago September, but this was quite small.

Prices during the first period declined ¼ under the previous close, but later worked to ½ higher, but this upturn was not held. Export sales overnight were small, estimated at 150,000 bushels. A few reports were received from Kansas this morning suggesting the possibility of damage to the new winter wheat crop.

A wire from Kansas City stated weather drifting this morning, and just above freezing in the night. Blizzards reported in Kansas with snow, high winds and temperatures as low as 10° below zero at some places. Great concern is felt for fruit and in some sections wheat damage is also feared.

The demand for cash wheat locally was only fair. The flour situation was unchanged. Late navigation is expected to open on April 15 at Port William or Port Arthur. Winnipeg futures closed ¼ up.

Coarse grains and cereals markets continue generally quiet. There is very little pressure on the futures, but the demand is very light with eastern Canada continuing to take the odd car of oats and barley.

Flax: Dull and featureless, closing prices ¼ to 1½ lower.

Liverpool: The situation was ½ higher based on Winnipeg.

Out

IN SOME of the colleges they are now giving aptitude tests to the students to see if they have a natural bent toward law or medicine or teaching or engineering or whatever career they are thinking of fitting themselves for. It is hoped in this way to prevent many of the tragedies that result from round pegs trying vainly to fit themselves into square holes and to keep thousands of young men and women from wasting their time and money preparing themselves for professions for which they have no talent and which nature never intended them to follow.

All of us know so many intelligent, industrious, energetic people who are failures in the world simply and solely because they are trying to do the thing for which they have no gift. Singers without voices. Dumb preachers. Business men who never see an opportunity and who never learn how to trade. Wasted lives. Wasted effort. Wasted lives. All because John was forced to be a lawyer because the Joneses had always had lawyers in the family, or mother thrust John into the ministry when he should have gone into a garage because she thought it would be perfectly grand to have a son who was a bishop or because snub-nosed Geraldine saw herself as a movie star instead of as she was.

Certainly it will be an incalculable boon to humanity and prevent millions of bitter disappointments and discouragements and the shedding of barrels of tears if the psychologists can separate the sheep from the goats before they break into the wrong pasture and starve to death because there is no food in it for which they have an appetite.

And what a pity it is that just as these students are to be tested for their fitness for following some particular profession there is not some way candidates for matrimony could be tested for their aptitude for the holy estate.

Because the thing that is chiefly the matter with marriage is that men and women are trying to practice it as a profession who have no talent for it and so they make a mess of it. They are not natural-born husbands and wives, and no matter how hard they strive, they will never make a success of the calling. They will always turn out an amateurish, jack-of-all-trades sort of job that will never give any real satisfaction.

A man and woman may be models of all the virtues. They may do their duty like early Christian martyrs. They may be splendid friends, wonderful pals and still be utter failures as husband and wife just because they are not adapted to domestic life, and it would stop about three-fourths of the divorces if they could find this out before marriage instead of afterward.

There are men, for instance, who are just natural philanderers and they can do no more help wandering than they can the color of their hair or their eyes. No woman on earth could hold their fickle fancies. They would tire of the greatest beauty and the vampiest vamp in six months and their wandering feet would start chasing some petticoat that was just fluttering around the corner.

Such men should never marry because if they do they break their wives' hearts with their unfaithfulness and poison their lives with jealousy. Single, they are an asset to society, for they provide beaux, romances, love-making, thrills to the innumerable women they favor with their attentions, but as husbands they are total losses.

Then there is the tightwad man whose only real passion in life is for money. He is always counting up the cost of the baby's milk and how much it takes to feed a family and what his wife spends on her clothes, and he always begrudges the price.

The stingy man should never marry because if you count the cost of a family in dollars and cents it is a poor investment. It is only the generous, open-handed men, the men who get their greatest pleasure in lavishing things on their wives and children who should marry.

The man who is so absorbed in his business or profession that he has no time or interest to give to anything else should not marry. Nor should the selfish man marry. Nor should the cold, unemotional man marry. Nor should the man marry who does not want to settle down and be a fireside companion. Such men may be of fine characters and make a great success of bachelorhood, but they are failures as husbands.

Nor should the undomestic woman marry. The woman who does not thrill to the sight of pots and pans and who skips all the recipes in the newspapers and who does not love every detail of home-making should refrain from taking any man's happiness and digestion into her keeping. Nor should any woman marry who looks upon children as brats and refuses to inflict herself with them and who thinks that there is some more important career in the world than being merely a wife and mother.

No woman should marry who is not adaptable and who cannot change her opinions and her prejudices as easily as she does her hats. No woman should marry who is not a good sport and who is not willing to give and take. Nor should any woman marry who is not willing to use tact and diplomacy in getting along with her husband.

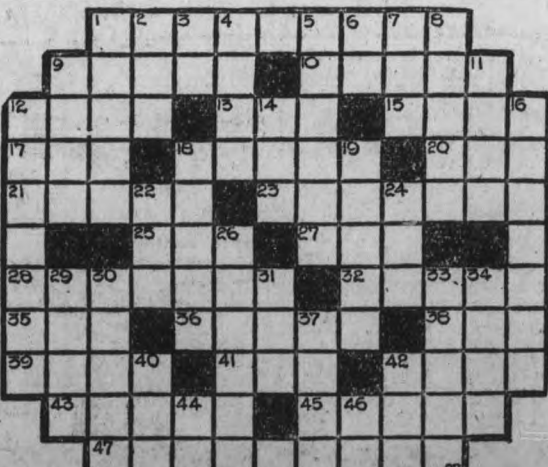

And, above all, no woman should marry who isn't of a kind, loving, sunny disposition, for on the wife's temper and temperament depends the success of every marriage.

What a pity that every Marriage License Bureau doesn't keep a psychologist at hand to give the prospective bridegroom and bride a test and find out if they are adapted to marriage!

OAK BAY TO ASK FURTHER GOVT. GRANT

Ready to Sign Up Immediately
For $1,500 For Unemployment
Relief, Council Decides
School Board Asked For More
Details in Extraordinary
Expense Account

Oak Bay will at once apply to the provincial government for an additional grant of $1,500 for the relief of unemployment, it was decided at yesterday's council meeting. The reeve was appointed to sign the new agreement. The council also decided that the School Board be asked to give more details of its request for $2,500, for extraordinary expenses before the full estimate was passed.

The additional unemployment work in Oak Bay, for which the further grant is sought, must start not later than April 15, and must be completed by June 1. Last fall the municipality received a much larger grant, but this was used up in the relief of unemployment during the winter months. With the further grant it is hoped to give work to many of the unemployed at the present time and so tide them over until the summer work commences at points outside Victoria. Patrick Philip, deputy minister and chief engineer of the Public Works Department advised the council on this matter on behalf of the government.

Much debate followed the reading of the letter from the School Board, asking for $2,500 for extraordinary expenses. Items in this expense account were $607 for equipment for the manual training branch, $195 for equipment for home economics, $400 for new typewriters, $300 for furniture for the new High School and $800 for school grounds. Councillor Means was of the opinion that the board should be asked for further details of the work to be carried out on the grounds, and after much discussion the clerk was instructed to write to the board asking this information. The council passed other estimates, with the exception of the $800 for the grounds.

The council yesterday referred four requests for grants to the estimates committee. They were from the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association, the Salvation Army, the Victoria and Island Branch of the Navy League and the S.P.C.A.

The police estimates for the year, set at $12,562.20, were passed on the movement of Councillor Means and Councillor Angus. Against this estimate may be set an estimated credit of $130 for payments for police services, the police board clerk advised the council. It has also been customary, he said, to charge $300 of the police costs to office and general expenses on account of the department's work in collecting trades licenses and other revenue.

A request was read from the owners of the Chinese cemetery at Foul Bay asking for permission to exhume two bodies. The meeting was told that one body had been buried for seven years and the other for nine years. Councillor Means moved that the necessary permission be given to remove the bodies. Although it was not stated in the letter what the exhumation was intended for, it is a habit with the Chinese to send the bones of their departed back to China after having been buried a certain number of years here.

Councillor Hew Paterson was again absent from yesterday's meeting because of illness, but present were Reeve Hayward, who occupied the chair, and Councillors Goodlake, Means, Angus, Mayhew and Crease. Much of the council's time is now being taken with committee meetings as there is a great deal of work to be accomplished at this time. The general estimates for the year are now being worked on and will be presented shortly. It will then be possible to set the tax rate for the year. This, it is expected, will not be any higher than last year, as the finances of the municipality are in remarkably good shape.

CHIROPRACTORS' AND HEALERS' BILLS DROPPED

Premier Agrees to Commission to Inquire Into Qualifications

Dr. Kingston Joins in Criticism
Voiced By Medical Men

The chiropractors' bill and the drugless healers' bill, under which those professions sought the right to control their own affairs apart from the Medical Council, were withdrawn in the Legislature yesterday.

The chiropractors' bill was withdrawn after Premier Tolmie had given a pledge to appoint a commission to recommend the proper qualifications for chiropractors. H. D. Twigg moved for the bill to be withdrawn upon the pledge being given.

William Dick then withdrew the drugless healers' bill and Premier Tolmie rose to promise the same action would be taken in this case. Economy should not be the first consideration when the health of the public was at stake, the Premier said. He made no reply to the suggestion of A. M. Manson, F.C., that a judge of the Supreme Court or the Appeal Court should be appointed on the commission, and when Mr. Manson sought to press the point he was ruled out of order by the Speaker.

Before the Premier ended the debate with the promise of a commission on chiropractors, Dr. C. M. Kingston spoke emphatically against chiropractors being given the powers they sought. It was inadvisable by reason of their unscientific methods and theories to give them legal recognition, he claimed. Up to 1910 there was no encyclopaedia definition of a chiropractor, he said. In 1914 schools in the United States were turning them out by the hundreds. They were enticed or induced to enter the profession by advertisements announcing it is a lucrative calling.

RUSH OF APPLICANTS

"The butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker flocked to the colleges and at so much per were turned out as chiropractors," said the speaker. "They did not enter because of a scientific discovery for the relief of humanity, but because of advertisements telling them not to struggle for two or three dollars a day but to earn twenty to thirty dollars a day as chiropractors."

The speaker scoffed at the theory, which he said chiropractors held, that all diseases were caused by subluxation of the spine. He pictured chiropractors under the bill signing all death certificates as due to subluxation of the spine and reporting contagious diseases as subluxation of the spine. He admitted some good had been done by some chiropractors. There were some patients whom they could help, he said. There were others for whom they could do a little good and a little harm, and a third class of patient for whom they could do a great deal of harm. He suggested an inquiry so that there would be no danger of unqualified chiropractors becoming a menace to the public.

PROTECT CHIROPRACTOR

Premier Tolmie said reports of cures made by some of the best citizens indicated there must be some merit in chiropractic. The success achieved by some members of the profession had possibly induced others not so qualified to enter into it. That necessitated protection for the chiropractor as well as the public. If the chiropractors establish themselves on a sound foundation he thought they might build up a profession they would be proud of. He thought justice would be given to the public and chiropractors if a commission to go thoroughly into the matter were appointed.

NEW AIRPLANE COMPANY TO HAVE BASE AT RUPERT

With a capitalization of $25,000 a new airplane company, the Northern B.C. Airways Limited, with headquarters in Prince Rupert, has been formed. It was announced here yesterday by Capt. S. L. Punnett, of this city, general manager of the new concern. The company recently bought out the Yarrow Aircraft Corporation Limited of Vancouver, which controlled the Dominion Airways Limited. It is the plan of the Northern B.C. Airways, under its president, Mayor Cyril Orme of Prince Rupert, to carry out aerial mapping for the government, to transport prospectors into the interior and to give hunters a quicker means of getting to the country where game is found in abundance. Only routine aircraft will be used. It is also planned to start a flying school in Prince Rupert, using the company's planes. Capt. Punnett is a well-known flier, having had wide experience as an aviator during and after the war.
